McGovern in State, Would End Controls

Although apparently snubbed by Mayor Daley of Chicago, who cited personal and city responsibilities for his absence, Democratic Presidential Nominee George McGovern campaigned yesterday at the Illinois State Fair and promised to end price and wage controls 90 days after being inaugurated.

Senator McGovern made a platform appearance along with Dan Walker, governor nominee, Auditor Michael Howlett, nominee for secretary of state, and State Sen. Thomas G. Lyons, nominee for attorney general.

He visited the Lincoln monument and toured the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Dorritt Sharpe.

Sen. McGovern admitted sending Pierre Salinger to Paris to meet with members of the North Vietnamese delegation and discuss war prisoners.

The Presidential candidate met with legislative and party leaders, including a reception given by a Madison County group, and said he will confer with Mayor Daley in Chicago next Wednesday, when McGovern will address the national American Legion convention.

Daley was said to have been angered by a McGovern magazine quote that political pragmatism compelled him to meet with Daley; the mayor's comment, "I don't hold pragmatic meetings with anybody."

Sen. McGovern was not met at the Springfield airport by any members of this year's state Democratic ticket. However, Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon and James Roman, state party chairman, greeted him.

At the fair, Simon received loud applause.

A panel discussion on legislation will follow a dinner at 6:30 p.m. Sept. 6 in Alton sponsored by the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce. Ralph J. Claassen, State Chamber president, will speak.

Governor Richard B. Ogilvie will be honored at a $100-a-plate Go for "O" dinner Sept. 13 in Chicago. Quad-Cityans will be among those attending.

Medical School Preference for Local Students

The Southern Illinois University School of Medicine at Springfield will give admissions preference to students from southern and central Illinois, including the Madison-St. Clair Counties area.

Deane Doelen, assistant dean for student affairs at the medical school, stressed the geographical preference as he met this week with preprofessional students at SIU at Edwardsville to answer questions about the M.D. program expected to begin in June.

Doelen said students interested in the program should apply as soon as possible, with Dec. 15 the application deadline.

The 56-month curriculum will include one year of instruction on the SIU Carbondale campus, with the following two years to be spent at the University's medical center in Springfield.

Doelen said SIU will admit 48 first-year students, and 24 advanced standing students for June 1973.

The program will eliminate internships, with graduates going immediately into a three, four or five-year residency, depending on their specialty.

"For admission, a student must have a minimum of three years of college work, although I would strongly suggest a bachelor's degree," Doelen said. "We also require scores from the Medical College Admission Test."

"Applicants are expected to have a good foundation in general education including natural sciences, social sciences, the humanities and facility in writing and speaking the English language."

Doelen's visit to SIUE was coordinated by the Science and Technology Division. He is planning to return in October to answer further questions about the new medical school.

Better Use of Funds Possible—Dan Walker

Calling for "old-fashioned honesty" in public offices and pledging better use of state taxes, Democratic gubernatorial nominee Dan Walker spoke at an "old-fashioned" political rally Monday evening at the Long Lake Firemen's recreation hall in Pontoon Beach.

An enthusiastic gathering of nearly 200 ignored the heat of the night to interrupt the speaker with frequent applause. Officials who attended included State Senator Sam Vadala, Pontoon Beach Mayor Otto Kreher and Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whistell.

Stressing that "I'm a Democrat and proud to be," Walker said he won the nomination for governor by opposing "machine politics" and will continue to do so.

He praised Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon, whom he defeated in the March primary election, and said he hopes that the former local state senator can serve in a statewide office again in the future.

Critical of his November foe, Governor Richard B. Ogilvie, Walker noted that polls show Walker winning but that he does not want his supporters to become over-confident. He repeatedly commented, "I ask for your help; I need it to win."

Walker said he earned $120,000 a year in business and his family has enough savings to enable him to explore the possibility of public service.

"My salary will be only a third of what it was, but I have spoken out on public matters so often that I realized I had an obligation to 'put my body where my mouth was,' he told the gathering.

He returned often to the theme of his interest in serving "the real people." Using no prepared text, he summarized his goals and then responded to a number of questions from the audience.

Walker displayed an Aug. 13 Chicago Daily News with headline reporting the alleged loss of $62 million in general assistance aid paid to ineligible recipients and said, "If I were governor, I would call on every resource to combat waste."

Other points made by the Democratic nominee for governor included: "My opponent will spend $12 million to $3 million in the

Pollution's 'Moment of Truth'—Unburned Trash Costlier to Take Away

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

The problems of collecting trash and wastewater—which no longer may be disposed of by burning—continued to mount in Granite City this week.

Mayor Donald Partney sought public reaction on a proposal to award a contract for additional collection services as an alternative to the present apparently inadequate system of pickups of burnable materials at the city.

He noted that a contract for pickup services by a sanitation firm might cost the city about $150,000 a year in addition to the present garbage collection contract of $190,000 annually, the mayor said that the city has been besieged by complaints that city pickups by the street department are not fast enough.

Big figures on the work are being kept secret by a committee headed by William Dallas but are circulating verbally. The city's collection system was inaugurated by the city council in its July 24 meeting at the suggestion of Mayor Partney who maintained the city could at least temporarily pick up the additional trash resulting from the statewide burning ban at no extra cost to the city.

Use Two Trucks
That system involves the use of two surplus trucks owned by the Civil Defense unit. The trucks are manned by employees provided by the Madison County Emergency Employment office. They are as-

Venice School Budget Deficit Despite Cuts

A tentative 1972-73 fiscal budget of $1,789,616—reflecting a projected deficit of approximately $200,000—was posted for public inspection by the board of education of Venice School District 3 in a special meeting Monday night.

While the new appropriation figure is $481,291 less than last year's budget of $2,270,970, the total is certain to be increased before the budget is finally approved in a meeting that will follow a public hearing Sept. 18, according to John Pier, school superintendent.

Pier said the projection of $1,441,443 for the educational fund as set up in the new tentative budget does not include increases in teacher salaries that will be contained in a new contract for which negotiations are now being completed. The same is true of the building fund which will be increased in the amount of salary raises for teachers and maintenance employees, Pier said.

The overall tentative budget figure of $1,789,616 is projected against a total anticipated revenue of $1,688,881, or a deficit of $120,635. The deficit will be increased by whatever amounts are added to the educational and building funds in the permanent budget to be adopted next month, and conceivably may reach a total of $200,000, Pier said.

Revenue insufficient
All of the potential deficit in the educational fund for which total revenue of $1,296,737 from all sources is projected. Applied against the tentative budget figure of $1,441,443, this leaves the district $144,646 short of meeting projected educational fund expenditures.

Pier told the board that this year's educational fund budget is $459,450 lower than last year's figure of $1,900,893 because of cutbacks in several phases of the school program, including elimination of band, art and music classes, and because of a substantial reduction in the outlay for the Lincoln vocational school. Budget cuts for building, bonds and interest and municipal retirement funds are slightly less than those of last year, but in total these funds are anticipated to be less than anticipated revenue for the signed to make pickups in specific areas under week-week schedules arranged by the street department.

Since the city pickup system was initiated by the council on a trial basis, the street department, the city inspector's office and the mayor's office have been flooded by complaints that tree limbs, brush, wastewater and other burnable materials are accumulating in areas which have not yet been visited by the city trucks.

Most city council members admit that they may have acted too hastily in going ahead with the city pickup plan and that the situation should be reviewed.

Dallgas, chairman of the council's Sanitation Committee, told council members in their Aug. 7 session that he should have "given more thought" to the plan before recommending its approval and that the council should take a new look at the program.

As a result of that discussion, a meeting of the Sanitation Committee with the mayor and the street superintendent was held last week. The meeting was set for Aug. 9 but failed to materialize because the mayor, who has been ill and confined to his home, was unavailable for the session.

Court Administrator in County Recommended

A court administrator here, full-time assisting on the staff of the state's attorney and adequate operating space for personnel are among major recommendations made in a preliminary report of a management survey.

The report on the Third Judicial Circuit (Madison and Bond Counties) was presented to the Madison County Board at a meeting Wednesday.

The project, started in early February, is sponsored by the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission under a $30,000 grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission.

The report was presented by Douglas Metz of Cleveland, vice-president of Booz, Allen & Hamilton, which conducted the study. The survey is a pilot project to be used by the state for counties of similar size.

The study encompassed seven counties comprising the Third and 29th judicial circuits of Illinois and emphasized criminal justice agencies—including court, circuit clerk, state's attorney, public defender and probation services.

The report by the consulting firm indicated that implementation of its recommendations could be effected at minimal cost to the taxpayers. A more detailed report is to be distributed soon.

Citing needs and opportunities for improvement, the report emphasized:

Increased ability of the County Board, under the 1970 Illinois Constitution, to supervise overall county operations and exercise budgetary controls.

"Seriously inadequate" court facilities, especially in Edwardsville, including shortage of space for the circuit clerk's office.

Twenty persons in the state's attorney's office work in space adequate for five or six, and the entire operation of the public defender's office is housed in one partitioned room. Jail facilities are decades behind the needs."

Armed Robber Takes Taxicab and Cash

An armed robber, displaying what was described as "a very big gun," took an undetermined amount of cash from a Yellow Cab Co. driver and fled in the taxicab Tuesday afternoon.

Gerald Hayes, 2001 Missouri Ave., the driver of the taxi, told police a man in his 50s, wearing blue pants and a blue shirt, motioned the cab to the curb at 20th and Kennedy Drive in Madison at 3:20 p.m. Tuesday and aimed the gun at Hayes' throat.

The man said, "Don't do anything foolish or stupid. Make a doughnut (U-turn) and head for McCormick and across the viaduct to 20th and head for East St. Louis," Hayes related.

He said the robber told him to stop the cab at Ninth St. and Illinois Avenue in East St. Louis where he took the money and the taxi.

Workers returned to work on the auditorium of Granite City High School this morning for reconstruction of the fire-damaged structure. Construction work is scheduled to resume tomorrow on the new high school at route 203 and Maryville Road.

Other local projects scheduled to resume include expansion of the Kroger food store, blast furnace repairs and improvements at Granite City Steel Co. and a $6 million improvement project at the Chain of Rocks Locks.

The agreement calls for ironworkers to receive a 45-cent per hour increase in fringe benefits and revisions in working condition regulations. It must yet be raised by the union membership.

Met With Mediator
The settlement was reached after a seven and a half hour negotiating session between the Ironworkers and the Southern Illinois Builders' Association with Bernard O'Keefe, a federal mediator. If ratified, the hourly wage for ironworkers, including fringe benefits, will increase from $9.10 per hour to $9.55 per hour.

Man Found Floating in Mississippi River

Bob Niehaus, 5100 Collinsville Road, was found clinging to a tree branch in the Mississippi River near Mosenheim Island at 11 p.m. Tuesday by two fishermen, Clem Smith, 418 Main St., Venice, and Bobby Godfrey, 618 Main St., Venice.

Niehaus, who said he had been in the water since before dark, told police he did not know how he got into the water from his cabin cruiser. He said two other men were aboard the boat.

Venice police and firemen, fearing the boat may have sunk, started a search for the man from the island to Low Water Dam. The boat was found intact near the island. Police are investigating the incident.

Members of Carpenters' District Council of Madison County and Vicinity and the Carpenters' Tri-County District Council continue to work on SIBA projects without contracts while negotiations with a mediator continue.

A meeting scheduled Tuesday with the Madison County group was cancelled by the union. Another meeting is tentatively planned Monday.

The SIBA and the Tri-County District Council were to meet today. But carpenters' union contracts expired Aug. 1. The unions reportedly are seeking 40-cent per hour increases in fringe benefits.

Labors Strike
A strike by laborers continues to halt construction in 12 Southwestern Illinois Counties but the Southern Illinois Laborers' District 8 Council, representing Madison County locals, is not involved.

District 9 struck Tuesday and District 7 followed suit yesterday. District 9 is seeking $1.50 per hour and District 7 is seeking 20 months plus other pay related benefits. The SIBA has offered 90 cents over a three-year period.

District 7 is seeking $1.70 in wages over 20 months. The contracts for the two strikes expired when the strikes began. One year remains on the District 8 contract covering workers in Madison County.

Data Available on Admissions

Conc. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) has announced that Major James F. Strieter, an Army Reserve Officer of Collinsville, attended a week-long Liaison Officer's Conference at the United States Military Academy conducted by the director of admissions.

While at the conference, Major Strieter participated in several workshops, attended academic and admission briefings, toured the academy facilities and met with cadets.

Workshop subjects included admissions processing, communication with today's youth, and military psychology and leadership (counseling).

The Liaison Officer's Conference, an annual event, is intended to update the officers on current academic, military and athletic programs at West Point and to instruct them in admissions procedures.

All interested high school juniors, parents, and high school guidance counselors in the congressional district may obtain admissions information by contacting Congressman Price, 2408 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515, the U. S. Military Academy's Admissions Office, or Major Strieter, 1206 Waverly Drive, Collinsville, Ill. 62234, telephone 345-0210/5818.

Names of World War I Dead Sought for Plaque

The names of all World War I veterans from Granite City who were killed in action are being sought by Amvets Post 51 for a bronze plaque which will bear the names of all Granite City men killed in both world wars, Korea and Vietnam.

The plaque will be placed in Memorial Park at the fountain across from St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The Amvets are attempting to determine if a plaque bearing the names of the World War I veterans from here once had been placed at Triangle Park. Anyone having information about the plaque or knowing of any list of these men is asked to contact Steve Konkovich, public relations officer for the local Amvets post, at 877-1336.

"It is imperative that the names of the World War I men of Granite City be put on this bronze plaque, so that no one is forgotten, and all will be remembered for their supreme sacrifice," Konkovich said.

In addition to the plaque, the Amvets will prepare a booklet with a biography of each deceased veteran. Copies will be presented to the Granite City Public Library and one will be kept at City Hall in Granite City.

If the names can be obtained in time to have the plaque prepared for Veterans' Day, commemorative services will be held and the plaque will be unveiled on that day.

Chemical Workers to Elect Union Officers

An election of officers for the International Chemical Workers Union Local 764 will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Union office on Edwardsville Road.

Those nominated for office are Gene Robertson, president; Rola Phelps, vice-president; Matthew Blatter, financial secretary and treasurer; Don Vail, recording secretary; William Hildebrand, guide; Charles Orzel, sergeant-at-arms; trustees, Fred Rigel for a 3-year term and John Kornatowski for a 2-year term.

Business Bureau Warns of 'Sale Pitch'

In a warning to area consumers and business, the Better Business Bureau of Greater St. Louis has reported complaints involving questionable sales tactics used to sell office supplies to companies in the area. Business executives have reported to the bureau that they are being solicited to buy office supplies through long-distance telephone calls using a "distress approach," according to M. A. Galland, bureau president.

According to these reports, the name of a member of the board of directors of the company is used as a point of reference to capture the attention of an executive. The caller poses as a relative of the board member who is just graduating from Columbia University.

He claims he has accepted a job in Appalachia and for this reason he "chopped" to have several gross of pens to dispose of immediately. The caller says he can make them available at a fraction of their cost because of his friendship.

The use of an emotional, name-dropping pitch to sell shoddy supplies, often misrepresents as well-known brands, is a technique used by companies from coast to coast.

Callandro suggested that businessmen who have been solicited in this manner report these calls to the Better Business Bureau.

County Tax System Could Aid Some Area Districts

Some taxing bodies whose officials are opposing a county service charge for tax extension work actually may profit from the county tax system as it now operates, John Kravynak, county auditor, said this week.

Because of the elimination of the use of fees to finance government operations under the new 1970 Illinois Constitution, taxing bodies will be receiving distribution of the full amount of their tax extensions without the deduction of 2%, as fees for town collectors and 3% deduction by the county collector, Kravynak noted.

In addition, the county auditor explained, some taxing districts include in their tax levies a levy item for loss and cost of collection that is increased later by an additional 5% loss and cost of collection extended by the county clerk's office.

In those cases, the amount of taxes collected almost certainly would be in excess of the service charge the taxing district is asked to pay to finance county assessment, extension and collection services, he added.

Most taxing agencies throughout the county are objecting to the service charge levied by the county for a total of $1,407,000. Each taxing body has been

Workshop for County Boards

A one-day workshop for County Board members will be held in Springfield at the Holiday Inn East Friday, Sept. 22, under sponsorship of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, Maurice W. Scott, executive vice-president, has announced.

On May 1, 1972, new county boards took office under the provisions of a Reapportionment Plan for the Selection of County Boards for downstate counties passed by the General Assembly in 1969.

As a result of the reapportionment, the size of county boards was reduced and many new members took seats on the boards.

Many of the new members, as well as experienced members, requested that the Federation sponsor a workshop to familiarize members with their powers, duties and taxation and fiscal responsibilities.

County clerks, who are clerks of the county boards, and other public officials and taxpayers are welcome to attend the workshop, Scott said.

It will be devoted entirely to the problems and questions of county government affecting the work and duties of members of county boards.

A panel of six members has been asked to serve as tutors and quizmasters the day of the meeting, and questions will be answered.

Registrations are being made with the Federation's Springfield office, with the deadline being Sept. 15. The meeting will be held Sept. 22, from 8:30 a.m. to noon and, after a break for lunch, from 1:15 p.m. until 3:30 p.m.

A luncheon will be served at 12:15 p.m. Registration will include the luncheon and expenses of a transcript, and will be $5 per person.

State Leaders Of Steelworkers Endorse Walker

The Illinois State United Steelworkers of America Political Education Committee on Tuesday endorsed and threw its full support to Dan Walker, Democratic candidate for governor.

The action climaxed a meeting of the union PEC group, which consists of representatives from 258 local unions with a membership of 130,000.

"This is more than just an endorsement, it's a total commitment," District 31 Director Joseph Germano, who chairs the committee, said. Also expressing strong support for Walker were committee co-chairmen, District 32 Director Bertram McNamara and District 34 Director Lloyd McBride, whose districts also encompass parts of Illinois.

"I am running for governor," Walker told the Steelworker delegates, "because I want to make government more responsive to the needs of average people. It is the 'real people'—the men and women who farm and small businesses—who need better representation by their government."

"And I publicly pledge to you today that organized labor in this state, as well as other groups that truly represent the 'real people,' will have access to me personally if I'm selected as your governor."

FAMILY CLARIFICATION

Richard Patrick, whose father, John, has just retired from Granite City Steel Co., is the son of John and Stella Patrick, he reported this week. An article Monday listed three sons and 11 grandchildren and mentioned the elder Patrick's present wife, Catherine.

THEFT FROM AUTO

Nathan Zimmerman, 3239 Maryville Road, reported at 5:50 a.m. today that thieves stole the registration, warranty and payment books from his 1971 foreign compact car and broke the radio knob while it was parked at his home during the night.

In a debate taped earlier Monday evening for presentation at 8 p.m. Saturday on television Channel Four, St. Louis, Walker denied that he favors a graduated state tax but said he would ask for a tax credit to persons earning less than $15,000.

Walker charged that his opponent is obscuring Walker's tax stand. He added that Gov. Ogilvie has increased state revenue but continued to provide inadequate funds for schools, mental health and other programs. The governor replied by outlining where funds have been allocated.

"Without the 1969 tax programs," Ogilvie said, "Illinois sales taxes would be up to seven cents or nine cents and local property taxes would be 35% to 50% higher than they are."

Ogilvie accused his opponent of saying one thing in one place and another thing in another place, citing a "position paper" submitted to Independent Voters of Illinois describing Walker as favoring a graduated income tax rather than the present flat-rate tax.

When Walker reported state spending for welfare cheaters, color photos of the governor and a cookbook, Gov. Ogilvie denied it and said, "This is the third time you've pulled this stunt on me; we've knocked you flatter than a pancake each time."

In their summaries, Walker said state spending and taxes have risen and that there has been much waste, while Gov. Ogilvie said he inherited a bankrupt state with schools in desperate straits and other services in trouble" and acted to restore needed services.

campaign. He has put commercials on TV far earlier than I have ever seen."

Walker favors a Columbia-Waterloo, Ill., airport and also Quad-City area road, drainage and park improvements announced by Gov. Ogilvie. He also favors a new state office center in East St. Louis but wants more money for the state to attract private jobs throughout Madison and St. Clair counties.

"Lies are being circulated about my stand on gun control. I've been a hunter all my life and am totally opposed to confinement of guns. I am for a law to impose tough and mandatory penalties for crime committed with guns."

"For the first time in its history, the state can have a governor totally independent, who can be for all the people and all sections, and not for vested interests, and I will be able to look any group or any man in the eye and say, 'It was not you—I was all of the people of Illinois who put me in the governor's office.'"

Walker opposed the Illinois Bureau of Investigation as an unnecessary cost.

He would be accountable to the public after election and would hold a public meeting monthly in both a small and large community.

Walker is against direct aid to parochial schools whether paid to parents or schools; he favors lunch, health and textbook aid for them.

He favors "humane and tough welfare administration, aiding those who deserve it but making sure those who are ineligible do not receive it."

He thinks Ogilvie "stupidly ignored Madison County for 35 years because the lieutenant governor lives here."

Walker concluded that "I'll be free to make government more responsive to the real people; to do that, I need your help." He received standing applause.

Madison Council Member Probes Legal Fee Bill

An itemized accounting of expenditures for legal services for the city of Madison was presented to the Madison City Council Tuesday night.

Kisner questioned a $50 item for secretarial services when bills for the first half of August were reviewed for payment. The legal bills for the period totaled $558, and included a $50 bill for Carline Givens for secretarial services, $235 salary for the city attorney and $287 salary for the corporation counsel.

Mayor Sasyk assured Kisner that the $50 bill was in line with rates for sketched and submitted by the bill.

After current bills were approved by the council, Mayor Sasyk said he would request a statement of services rendered to the city were submitted with the bill.

After current bills were approved by the council, Mayor Sasyk said he would request a statement of services rendered to the city were submitted with the bill.

Kisner and Don Broyles called attention to the fact that Harry and Bridget McKee existed in their ward at the corner of Highland and Collinsville avenues.

Sasyk said that when Elmer Smith, superintendent of streets, returns from vacation, they would inspect the area and take steps to improve the situation.

In other business the city council approved the appointment of Gary Novich as acting recreational director for the city. Novich has been filling the position since the resignation of John Kupchak two months ago.

Sgt. Norris Horton and Patrolman Mike Bricker were authorized by the Council to attend a Criminal Law Seminar Sept. 11-15 on the off-duty time. The cost of the seminar will be paid by a federal grant. Any officer wishing to attend in addition to Horton and Bricker must make individual requests, council members noted.

On a motion by Alderman Mike Vukobratovic and second by Alderman Ray Kozielek, permission was granted to the Madison City Council to sell savior bags in the city on Sept. 7 and 8.

The council, on a motion by Alderman Paul Ashton, and seconded by Broyles, approved the appointment of members of the fire departments.

Members of the fire department were Eldon Roads, fire chief; Charles Voloski, assistant chief; Elmer Smith, captain; John Bosworth, lieutenant; Joseph Kaleta, Otis Hollenbeck, Vasil Graville, Peter Mackel, Robert Page, Gordon Bailey, Terry Rhoads, Joseph Scrump, William Hlava, Daniel Economy, James Shipcoff, John Michaels, John P. Robertson, George Wallace, Mike Economy, Paul Besserman, Floyd Jenkins, C. W. Voloski Jr., Damian Caffrey and George Toeyes.

Mayor Sasyk then invited the council to join him at the Sedlack Funeral home to pay respect to the late Mrs. Felicia Owca, mother-in-law of Madison Alderman Stanley Krakowicki. The next meeting of the Madison City Council will be held at 7 p.m. on Aug. 29.

Four Madison Youths Face Drug Charges

Four Madison youths were charged with possession of cannabis after Venice police said they found almost 80 grams of marijuana in their auto at 2:20 a.m. yesterday.

Charged were Russell "Corky" Hughes, 19, of 13 Garesche Homes, who is charged with two counts of possession; Marvin "Honey" Bradley, 19, of 15 Grenzer Homes, charged with possession, and Glenn Jackson, 17, of 134 Grenzer Homes, the driver of the car, who was charged with possession and illegal transportation of alcohol.

Levee Board Meets in "Harmonious Session"

Policies for employment of workers under the Emergency Employment act were considered at a special meeting of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District board of trustees Tuesday—the first board meeting in over a half month.

The meeting, which lasted only five minutes, was called by Levee Board President James E. Tolson, 218 Adams, who remains at loggerheads with two members, James Pirle and Lawrence Tolson of East St. Louis.

Ebersold has been boycotting regular board meetings because of differences with Pirle and Tolson over insurance and retirement policies which the East St. Louis trustees want to put in use. As a special meeting, Tuesday's business was limited to the stated call of subjects to be considered.

Ebersold said the meeting was harmonious Tuesday, but that he is undecided as to whether he will attend the next regular board meeting scheduled Sept. 6.

VANDALS MAR AUTO

1972-73 fiscal exceeds the budget figures.

A budget item of $88,259 in the transportation fund is only $506 higher than last year's figure of $87,753. Anticipated revenue for this fund is $64,127.

Building Fund Items

In the building fund, the tentative budget projects expenditures of $223,676, down from $244,303. Revenue in this account is expected to total $228,586.

Bond and interest payments are budgeted as $46,863, down from last year's $46,702, with revenue projected at $46,880.

Municipal retirement payments are budgeted at $20,383, a decrease from $21,075. Revenue in this account is estimated at $22,097.

Pier explained that the total anticipated revenue for the 1972-73 year shows a drop of $61,597 below last year's income of $1,730,190.

Lewis & Clark Budget Totals $4.5 Million

An operating budget of $3,562,275 was adopted Monday night by the board of Lewis & Clark Community College for the 1972-73 year.

The largest single expense in the anticipated budget is salaries, accounting for $2,123,396 of the total. General administrative expenses were budgeted at $256,257 and instructional expenses were estimated at $1,546,222.

The budget also includes $272,000 to defray a deficit incurred last year.

Income is expected to total $1,950,250 from local taxes, $975,575 from state grants, $81,000 from federal grants and $84,480 from tuition of the projected 1,600 full-time students.

The budget may be trimmed if additional anticipated state vocational education grants are received.

Driver Faces Traffic Charges in Madison

Charles T. Howland, 29, of 800 Madison Ave., Madison, was arrested Monday in the 1900 block of Edwardsville Road and charged with improper parking on a roadway, having no valid registration, no valid driver's license and improper use of registration.

Madison police said they found Howland asleep in his car, parked in the center of the eastbound lanes of Edwardsville Road with the auto lights off. Howland was released on $100 bond.

Land Use Study

The board authorized the County Regional Planning Commission to contract with the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Plan Commission to conduct a study to revise the SIMAPC survey completed in 1969 which the board never had adopted.

The cost of the study, which would include public hearings, was estimated at $5,000 by SIMAPC, and the board agreed to provide $5,000 of the amount.

Forbied on the basis that there were no changes in land and said the additional study should be unnecessary.

Alton May of Alton, land use committee chairman, commented that some persons do not agree with the old plan and they would have an opportunity to be heard at public hearings. He said it is a preliminary move to get the planning machinery going.

In other business the board:

Coroner Audit

Heard a report by John Kraynak, county auditor, whose audit showed that the office of county coroner should have collected and turned over to the county $8,399 in fees due from conducting inquests and inquiries.

Apparently some deputy coroners do not think they have to collect fees in these cases, Kraynak said, but the fees are still collectable and legal action will be taken. He told the Press-Record that Coroner Robert Thomas supports the move.

Entered into an agreement with the East Side Levee & Sanitary District to lease the corner of Maryville and Old Alton roads for a year, with an option to renew after 10 years. Louis Whitsell of Nameoki Township said that tract now is being used as a ball field by area residents and the county will maintain the facility.

It does not appear other district properties but cannot be sold as it may be needed for a hillside drainage project, Whitsell said.

Vadalabene Is Encouraged By Highway 203, Levee News

"This weekend saw the state government take a couple of positive steps forward for Madison County," State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene commented to the Press-Record yesterday.

"The most important step came in the form of an announcement that the reconstruction of Illinois Route 203 in Granite City will go forward immediately."

"There's no doubt in my mind that this administrative action was the result of plenty of legislative effort to get Madison County its fair share of state road funds."

"The stretch of Illinois 203 that will be improved has been allowed to fall into terrible shape. The work has been a long time in coming, but it is important enough that we can feel grateful now that it is going to take place," he said.

Road Building Employment

"The two-mile stretch will be widened to four lanes between Interstate 270 at Mitchell and Ponton Road in Granite City. The $4 million that will be spent will bring a good number of jobs into this area. It isn't all the road money that the county needs, but it is a good start."

"Setting up a citizens' committee to study the division of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District should also yield positive results," Vadalabene continued. He and State Representative Horace Calvo of Granite City sponsored legislation that would effect this division in the current General Assembly.

"It is gratifying that responsible members of the community will get an opportunity to be heard on this issue. I'm sure that the committee will get to its business with all dispatch, so that we can accomplish another thing that should have been done a long time ago."

"Much more remains to be done, of course," Sen. Vadalabene concluded. "But I am encouraged to see that proposals I have been fighting for over the past several years have reached the action stage."

Driver Faces Charges Following Accidents

Arthur Teller, 2152 Adams St., was charged with theft after $150, reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident and driving without a valid license after the pickup truck he was driving struck two parked cars in the 2100 block of Benton Street at 12:20 a.m. yesterday, according to police.

Police charged that Teller took the Superior Auto Body truck without permission and was eastbound on Benton Street when he struck the car of Ella Miller, 2133 Benton, proceeded east and struck the auto of Mitchell A. Tharp, 2333 Zipich Ave. He then drove from the scene, police said.

The truck was stopped by a police car at 23rd and Adams streets. Officers said Teller ran from the vehicle and escaped. He was arrested at 1 a.m. yesterday in the 2100 block of Adams Street.

essay by the open burning ban.

Four bids were received, including one from Milam East County, which now has the city contract for garbage collections.

The council took no action on the bids, voting instead to authorize the city pickup plan.

Because council members did not act on the bids, Stanley Lister, general manager of Milam East, appeared on two occasions before the council and warned that his firm would have to stick to the exact terms of the garbage collection contract because "the city has gone in competition to us."

Lister noted that the present garbage collection contract provides that the street department may use the firm's landfill for dumping, but at the time these terms were put in the contract "we could not foresee something like this happening."

He said the city would not be permitted to dump its collections of trash in the landfill without paying additional charges.

He also informed the council that Milam trucks would pick up only the quantity of refuse agreed upon in the contract.

The contract limits the pickups to two 20-gallon cans or three 20-gallon cans, picked up once each week.

Mayor Partney issued a statement yesterday, in which he said:

"We have been making an attempt to pick up all burnable materials with our own (city) force, and with no additional increase in taxes."

"The state will arrest and fine anyone who is cited for open burning."

"We have received so many complaints due to the fact that we are not picking up fast enough to suit the citizens."

"The only other way this can be done is by an increase in taxation or a charge of approximately $2 per month for each home."

Later, the mayor said that if the public prefers a contract to provide more prompt pickups of additional trash, the charge could be made against each household and collected in a manner similar to that in which sewer rental fees are paid — bills sent out by the treasurer.

CYCLIST BREAKS LEG

James D. Woods, 22, of 935 Reynolds St., Madison, suffered a broken left leg when his motorcycle and the car of Verdel Thomas, St. Louis, collided at the entrance to the Venice High School parking lot at 8:40 p.m. Monday. Woods was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital following the accident.

or an additional tax levy could be made that would amount to about $24 per year on each residence.

Street Supt. Lionel Portell, who has received much of the criticism in the controversy, explained yesterday that his department does not have enough men and trucks to adequately service the entire city with additional pickups and still complete the primary task of keeping the streets in proper repair.

City Example

Portell cited as an example the complaint of an East 23rd Street man who he said took a pickup truck filled with trash which had not been collected, to the street department garage and threatened to dump it in the center of the parking lot.

Portell explained that the city was not equipped to collect trash at the garage. The resident asked, "What am I supposed to do with it?"

The man was warned by a Granite City police officer that he would be fined if he dumped it in the parking lot.

He responded, "Then you tell me what to do with it."

Portell intervened with a compromise, suggesting that the man dump the load into the trash container provided for the use of city employees, which is dumped weekly by Milam Corp. East.

Portell said, "I want to make it clear. We are not setting a precedent here. We will not accept trash at the city garage."

Portell said his office was receiving numerous questions and complaints daily on the issue.

"I just don't have the answers," he added.

Portell announced yesterday that the Chain of Rocks Landfill is open free of charge to Granite City residents who display city license stickers on their cars.

He said pickups of burnable materials will be made in the area east of Nameoki Road today, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Air Force Band to Hold Concert at Snows Shrine

The United States Air Force Band from Washington, D. C., will make its first appearance at the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, Belleville, on Tuesday, Aug. 28. An evening of musical entertainment gets under way at 8 p.m. in the 6,200 seat outdoor amphitheater.

Led by Col. Arnold Gabriel, the 64-piece band has been assembled from major Air Force commands in the United States and overseas. They have visited 35 countries on 12 international tours as good will ambassadors for the United States.

Environmental Chief Appointed by Scott

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott has announced his appointment, effective Sept. 1, of Joseph V. Karaganis, well-known specialist in environmental law, as chief of the Attorney General's Environmental Control Division.

Karaganis will succeed David C. Landgraf, Scott's environmental chief for the past two years. Landgraf has returned to the teaching profession as a professor of law at Rutgers University, Camden, New Jersey.

In announcing the Karaganis appointment, Attorney General Scott said:

"Joe Karaganis has worked closely with my staff in the fight against pollution. I am personally acquainted with his outstanding legal talent and knowledge of the environmental field. His acceptance of this responsibility guarantees the people of Illinois a continuance of the top staff leadership which has contributed so much to the success of our fight against pollution."

Karaganis has been a consultant to Attorney General Scott for the past three years. Acting for Scott, he was principal counsel in the successful U. S. Steel South Works suit, concert. Among them will be "An Air Force Panorama" performed by the 20-voice Singing Sergeants chorus.

Tickets are free and may be obtained by writing the Belle Scott Committee, P.O. Box 225, Belleville, Ill. 62222. A stamped self-addressed envelope should be included with all ticket requests.

Boys, 15 and 16, Held On Car Theft Charges

Two boys were charged with over $150 and curfew violations this week after allegedly stealing the car of Eddie Mason, 537 Mercedia Ave., Venice. Three other boys are being sought in connection with the theft.

Arrested were a 16-year-old Venice boy and a 15-year-old Madison boy. They were arrested jointly by Madison and Venice police after the stolen car ran out of gasoline in the 300 block of Weaver Street in Venice.

Guaranteed Loan Plan Resumes at Carbondale

Processing of Illinois guaranteed loan applications will be resumed Aug. 10 at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, according to Larry Dietz, adviser in the SIU Student Work and Financial Assistance office.

The processing operation had to be suspended earlier in the summer after passage of an educational amendments bill made necessary new guidelines for the program.

The program opened with Boy Scouts presenting the United States Flag as the audience was led in the pledge of allegiance.

Presenting the Blue Raider drum major with the first place award was Harold G. Baker Jr., potestate of Ainal Temple, presiding.

Starting as a Swedish band, the corps members changed to drums and bugles and have made a name for themselves, having won the World's and U. S. Open titles and the VFW Nationals, Sister Mary Thomas, administrator of St. Elizabeth Hospital, presented the Vanguards with their award.

Finishing third in the eyes of the judges, but first in the hearts of most of the spectators, was the Black Knights of Belleville which has several local area members. The Knights are holders of 15 trophies emblematic of national titles.

Banking Institute Sets Dinner Meet Wednesday
The annual membership and enrollment dinner of the St. Louis Chapter, American Institute of Banking, will be held at the Missouri Athletic Club on Wednesday evening, Aug. 23.

Attending will be Richard J. Read, executive councilman of the institute and cashier of the First National Bank of Greeley, Colorado.

Time Runs Out to Enter Some SIU-VTI Fields
Time has run out for many students planning to enroll this fall in allied health and aviation programs at the Southern Illinois University Vocational-Technical Institute.

No more new students are being admitted to associate degree programs in dental hygiene, dental laboratory technology, physical therapy assistant, mortuary science or aviation, according to Assistant Dean Marvin P. Hill.

"We have reached capacity for freshmen in these programs and are nearing the limit in others, such as automotive technology," he said.

As of Aug. 1, VTI had 710 enrolled for the fall term, up from 584 last year. Total enrollment is expected to go over 1,250. Enrollment ceilings are imposed on such programs as dental hygiene and aviation technology by accrediting agencies, while others are limited by physical facilities.

Hill said only a few openings are left in the commercial graphics, construction technologies, toll and manufacturing technology, and media technology programs.

Enrollment gains are being registered at VTI despite the phasing out of eight programs and options during the past year. Hill pointed out that this reflects the national trend toward increasing interest in technical and career education.

BRAKES FAIL
The auto of Marion C. Courtney, 254 E. 24th St., was extensively damaged when the brakes failed and the southbound car went over the curb at 1st and Monroe streets and struck several railroad ties at 11:55 p.m. Tuesday. The rear end of the car was knocked loose, police said.

Blue Raiders Take Top Honors At Shrine Drum, Bugle Show

By WALTER STRANGE, Press-Record Staff Writer

The sounds of the drums and bugles have faded, but the memory of the Tri-City Shrine Club's "Million Dollar Music" Charity show held Monday night on the Shrine grounds will long be remembered by more than 2,000 persons who attended.

The program opened with Boy Scouts presenting the United States Flag as the audience was led in the pledge of allegiance.

Presenting the Blue Raider drum major with the first place award was Harold G. Baker Jr., potestate of Ainal Temple, presiding.

defeated at one time or another.

G. Rollin Henn, Scout commissioner for the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America, presented the Knights with their award.

Other championship corps that participated Monday evening were the Garfield Scouts of Garfield, N. J. Imperials of St. Patrick's from Milwaukee, Wis.; and St. Paul Explorer Scouts, St. Paul, Minn.

The judging was strict and the competition between the six nationally-prominent corps was intense, as each group had 15 minutes to perform and was judged on such things as time getting on and off the field, performance time, bugling, visual effect, marching precision, drumming, formations, and general effect upon the audience.

A crew of six judges watched and listened. Three judges, dressed in umpire-type, black and white uniforms, were moving around the field with the corps; while high up in the press box three more judges watched and made detailed notes.

A crew of nine Boy Scouts was kept busy during the entire show, running back and forth between the recorders and the judges.

Adding to the festive occasion the Shriner and Boy Scouts sold popcorn and soda to the crowd.

After the expenses are paid the profits will be divided between the local Boy Scout Council, St. Elizabeth Hospital and the Shrine Charity.

Co-chairmen for the contest were Tri-City Shrine Club members Avery Schermer, president of the club, Thurl Jones, Orville Hommert, Warren Deatur, and Jack Solberger who also was the general ticket chairman.

Shrine Workers
Shriner Don Adams and Hommert were in charge of refreshments; Deatur handled facilities and physical arrangements; Louis Koch helped with publicity; Irv Slate and Chester Dean were in charge of the program.

Co-ordinating the Boy Scout activities, which included ticket sales, publicity, selling refreshments, serving as runners for the judges, opening ceremony, plus cleaning up Tuesday morning, was W. F. "Mick" Strange, activity chairman for the Cahokia Mound Council. Strange was assisted by Mark Yehling, district Scout executive.

Pat Orennan was the co-ordinator.

National Cycle Racer Earns Top Honors in Speedway Race

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Kenny Roberts of Aledo, Calif., who presently holds the fourth position in expert point standings in the American Motorcycle Association, claimed top honors during the weekly motorcycle race Tuesday night at the Tri-City Speedway.

Roberts, who set new records in the junior class last year by winning nine national events, entered the expert class for the first time this year and was first in the point standings for the first four months.

He won the Houston Short Track National but mechanical difficulties have kept him from finishing in the national events since then.

The California racer edged out Robert E. Lee of Fort Worth, Tex., and Barry Gerald of Baton Rouge, Fla., in the feature event on the quarter-mile after each of the three took a turn at the lead.

"Quite a Race"

After the first lap, Lee took the lead with Gerald second, Fred Smith of Memphis, Tenn., third and Roberts fourth. By the end of the lap, Gerald had taken over the lead and Roberts had passed Smith for third.

On the fifth lap, Lee passed Gerald to again hold the lead. Two laps later, Roberts passed Gerald to move into a challenging position behind Lee.

On the eighth lap of the 10-lap event, Roberts passed Lee and went on to victory, with Lee close behind and Gerald third.

Chapple Fastest
Charles Chapple of Flint, Mich., was the fastest qualifier of the night, completing a lap in 15.53 seconds. Don Wiley of Chicago qualified second fastest and Smith was third.

James Rawls of Arlington, Tex., led from start to finish in the trophy dash event, with Smith and Lee trailing.

The first heat was won by rookie Al Steele of Alton after a side-by-side battle all the way with Rawls.

Lee led all the way in the second heat to be followed at the checkered flag by Chuck Palmgren of Freehold, N. J., and Wiley. Palmgren presently is sixth in the national point standings.

The third heat was won handily by Gerald with Roberts second and Smith third.

Chapple passed the leader, Sammy Aut of the Louisiana, on the third lap of the elimination heat and went on to victory with Charles Bowermaster of Alton and Dennis Overturn of St. Louis close behind.

Luck Turns Sour
Chapple's luck then turned sour as he fell in the fourth turn of the track during the first semi-feature race, bringing out the red flag after three laps. He was not injured.

Lee and Gerald battled for the lead with Lee jumping out in front on the first lap and Gerald passing in the second lap.

After the red flag, Lee utilized the restart to again jump into the lead and held the position to the finish. Gerald was second with Smith third.

Steele and Bowermaster jumped the gun in the start of the second semi-feature and were moved to the rear of the pack for the restart. On the fifth lap, Bowermaster fell and eliminated himself from the event. He was not injured.

Palmgren led the first two laps of the event but was passed on the third lap by Roberts, who went on for the victory. Steele steadily moved from the rear of the pack toward the front throughout the race and was third at the checkered flag.

The weekly racing program will continue Tuesday with time trials at 7 p.m. and racing at 8 p.m.

Area Gridders At Kirksville

Two area football players are among 80 candidates invited to pre-season drills at Northeast Missouri State at Kirksville.

The duo is composed of sophomore offensive wingback Willie Ackers of Venice and sophomore defensive linebacker Harold James of Madison.

Ackers and James will be leading contenders for first-string duty, according to their new coach, Randy Lukehart.

Northeast Missouri State won the MIAA championship last season, compiling a 9-1 overall record, only the third time a Purple and White squad had posted nine victories in a single campaign.

The No. 13 hole was lucky for Charles Weiss, principal at Grigsby Junior High School as he drove a hole in a golf scramble held at the Arlington Golf Club over the weekend.

Using a seven iron, he sent the ball on a deadly 185-yard course to its target on the par three hole.

Observing the feat were John Coin, Richard Krebs, Pat Bray, Jim Wheatley and Wes Ziegler.

Mercer to Host St. Mary's Boosters Sunday in Park

The Mercer baseball team will make a bid for at least a tie for second place in the Blue Division of the Illinois Inter-City League in a game with St. Mary's Boosters of Madison at 2 p.m. Sunday at Wilson Park.

The Boosters, at 6-8, lead Mercer (6-9) by a half game in the division. The Boosters will play a make-up league game against Molitor Motors of Collinsville and could clinch a tie for the runner-up spot. It is set for 8 p.m. Saturday at Beckenmeyer, Ill.

The Sunday games will mark the end of the regular league season, weather permitting. Glen Carbon, division leader with an 8-7 mark, could find itself in a tie with St. Mary's. Fairfax of East Alton trails the division at 4-10.

Playoffs are to begin the following Sunday with the first division in each of the Blue and Red Divisions drawing byes, while the third place team plays the "second place" team on the latter's diamond.

The winners will play the first play team of their division on the diamond of the division winner. These winners will enter a best two-out-of-three playoff series starting Sept. 4 (Labor Day) and continuing Sept. 10, and Sept. 17 if necessary, for the league trophy.

"I am putting Pat Harris on the mound against Madison Sunday," Wendell Cory, Mercer manager, announced. "Harris can beat anybody in the league on a given day."

Harris, with a 2-2 record, saved the day for Mercer three times and has pitched more innings for his team than any other hurler.

Waiting in the bull pen in case Harris runs into trouble will be Steve Remack.

The lineup for the Mercer challengers will be Bill Campbell behind the plate, Jack Scarborough first base, Randy Sturdivant second base, Don Harris shortstop, Steve Burdige third base, Glen Greenwald left field, Dave Huddleston center field, and Piasa 5-10.

field and Bob Scott in right field.

"Getting the ball by Mercer will be like getting the sun by a rooster, but that's what (John) Piechocinski is going to need to do Sunday," Jim Greer, St. Mary's manager, commented.

"Mercer has a lot of hitters and on our last meeting we barely outslugged them as the score, you'll remember, was 12-10. My gun won't be with us. Al Bregan, who was hitting .366, is gone back to school, so we're going to be counting on our pitching."

Greer further said he was going to keep hurlers Frank "Zip" Papa and Joe Restoff warmed up in the pen in case Piechocinski gets into trouble.

Other Inter-City action Sunday will see Highland-Pierson at Hann, Fairfax at Molitor in the Blue Division and Glen Carbon will play Van's in Vannepier Park at East Alton. Try is idle.

Scarbrough first base, Randy Sturdivant second base, Don Harris shortstop, Steve Burdige third base, Glen Greenwald left field, Dave Huddleston center field, and Piasa 5-10.

Grid Rules Meet Set For Aug. 29

A football rules interpretation meeting at which 1972 National Alliance Football Rules will be thoroughly discussed will be conducted for officials and high school grid coaches Aug. 29 at Belleville East High School by the Illinois High School Association. Ted Scher of Chester will be the interpreter.

Official football rules interpreters appointed by the IHSA met last week in Chicago for a one-day session of high school rules instruction given by L. L. Astroh, IHSA assistant executive secretary and member of the National Alliance Rules Committee.

The purpose was to secure uniformity in interpretation and application of the 1972 high school football rules in downstate, suburban and Chicago areas.

There are a number of revisions authorized for the 1972 high school code. The most important of these are:

Only valid fair catch signal is the extending and waving of one hand only at a full arm's length above the head.

A down will be called if the whistle were inadvertently sounded during a kick or while a forward pass is in flight.

The covering official may stop the clock when he declares the ball dead and the ball appears to have reached the line to gain.

No offensive player who is outside an area, laterally four yards on either side of the spot of the snap and three yards behind each scrimmage line, may block an opponent below the waist in an area three yards behind each scrimmage line extending laterally from sideline to sideline if the block is toward the spot of the snap.

It is permissible for more than one coach to confer with one player during timeouts and intermissions.

The penalties for dead ball fouls are always administered separately and in the order of their occurrence and cannot be part of double or multiple fouls.

Park Golf Meet Finals Set for This Weekend

Finalists of the Granite City Park District Golf Tournament will be held Saturday and Sunday at the Arlington Heights Golf Club.

Finalists in the championship flight are Terry Tessary, Tully Huebner, Chuck Weiss, Walter Padgett, Dave Knollman and John Mikes.

Class "A" flight qualifiers are Harry Lane, Russ Chappell, Ted Prada, Bill Leach, George Barker, Herman Schroeder, John Reed and George Robelf.

Class "B" flight qualifiers are Wes Ziegler, Ron Corey, Les Thompson, Yock Lombardi, Russ Lockridge, Ralph Wilson, Rick Wade, Monroe Worthen, Chuck Mizersky, Gilbert Walmsey, John Warren, Arnold Fleishman, Joe Fedora and Gary Waffer.

Class "C" flight finalists are Eldon Craft, Ranny Rich, Don Marcus, Ed Reimager, Ray Huff, Horace Calvo, Frank Kraus, George Moore Jr., Paul Schuler, Fred King, Ed Wilfong, Gene Warfield, Richard Fry, Cory Worthen, Mike Fry and Chuck Bailey.

To Issue Soccer Equipment Friday
Soccer equipment and lockers will be issued between 10 a.m. and noon tomorrow at Granite City High School for candidates in the school's soccer program.

The first practice will be held at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday and the season will open as the Warriors host Highland Sept. 12. Twenty varsity games and 18 junior varsity games are scheduled.

Big Red Express Bus Service Will Resume

All eleven Big Red Express bus lines will be operated to Bush Memorial Stadium for all home games of the St. Louis Football Cardinals, including the two pre-season games with the Denver Broncos on Saturday, Aug. 19, and with the Chicago Bears on Saturday, Sept. 9.

The direct-to-the-stadium Big Red Express bus route will be the same as the Red Bird Express lines presently operated to all Cardinal baseball home games. At the Nameoki Village Shopping Center, the first bus leaves 75 minutes before game time and the last bus leaves 50 minutes before game time.

Between the first and last buses to leave the ends of the 11 lines, other trips are operated depending on the anticipated attendance at the game.

In general, Big Red Express buses make local stops on the outer portions of the lines and then operate non-stop direct to the stadium.

At the end of the game, all Big Red Expresses are ready for boarding on the bus parking lot just south of the stadium.

Lanes are designated by signs for each line.

Gold and Silver Weekly passes are good on Big Red Express buses upon payment of 25 cents. Cash fare is: adult 75 cents, child 40 cents.

Transfers are accepted on "going" trips upon payment of 20 cents by an adult or 10 cents by a child. On the return trip, free transfers are issued upon request.

Additional details on route or schedules are given by the Bi-State Transit System's information service, 773-1120. Information Bureau clerks are on duty to answer calls from 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

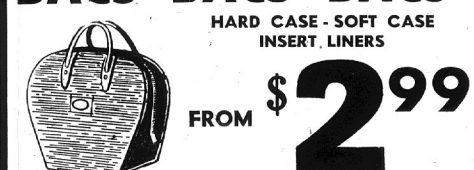

Schools Available

The Granite City School Board office today requested that all groups wishing to use district gymnasiums and facilities for all basketball programs submit request in writing to the board before Sept. 1. School officials will contact the groups to arrange for insurance and custodial care if the requests are granted.

Rebels and Petrillo In Regional Tourney

The Granite City Rebels, winners of the Illinois Amateur Softball Association (ASA) championship, and Petrillo Produce, state runnerup, will travel to St. Charles, Ill., for the Region 22 ASA women's slough-pitch tournament opening Friday.

The opening game will be at 8:15 p.m. Friday with the Milwaukee runnerup playing the host team, St. Charles.

The GC Rebels, Illinois champs, will then play the Wisconsin runnerup at 9:30 p.m. Friday.

Petrillo Produce will have its work cut out for it at 9 a.m. Saturday when it meets the championship team from the metropolitan Chicago area.

Title Game Sunday

There are nine teams in the double-elimination meet, which will end Sunday evening.

If the Rebel team wins Friday night it will play again at 3:45 p.m. Saturday. If Petrillo wins on Saturday morning, it will play at 5 p.m. that day.

The survivors of the 3:45 and 5 p.m. games will collide at 9:30 p.m. Saturday, with that winner taking on the loser of the bracket survivor for the tournament championship at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at St. Charles. If the one-loss squad defeats the unbeaten team, a second title game will be necessary at 9 p.m. Sunday.

The Rebels face potential losers' bracket games at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, 8:15 p.m. Saturday, 1:30 p.m. Sunday and 3 p.m. Sunday. The Petrillo nine upon losing would face games at 1:15 p.m. Saturday, 4 p.m. Saturday, 1:30 p.m. Sunday and 3 p.m. Sunday.

Lineup for Rebels

The lineup for the local state champs will include Thelma Pyles pitching, Kathy Farrington catching, Judy Bautech at first base, Jane Stoll second, by Don Detering.

Races Friday May End Sprint Car Season Here

Friday night may be the last opportunity for area super-sprint racing car drivers to bid for the winning streak of W. Spalding of Pontoon Beach.

Spalding has been nearly untouchable the second half of this season, winning six of the last seven sprint feature races. He also has reigned as king in the late model stock cars, winning all but three of the stock features this year, including the last eight in a row.

Plans beyond Friday night are for a special 100-lap late model stock car event Friday evening, Aug. 5, for a $2,000 guarantee purse. The program will not include sprint cars. Another special late model event may follow on Sept. 1, but plans have not been finalized for that date.

More Game in Illinois For Hunters This Fall

Copley News Service

Springfield—Things look good for Illinois hunting this fall—except, of course, for the furred and feathered targets.

There will be considerably more of them, the State Conservation Department says, except for quail, which have been holding about the same level of population for about the last 15 years.

Seasons More Uniform

Jim Lockart, supervisor of the division of wildlife resources for the conservation department, says rabbits, pheasant and doves have all apparently increased their numbers since 1971.

Deer, which have been maintaining a slow but steady increase in the state for the last several years, have continued to do so.

How does the department know?

Obviously, they can't send out questionnaires and ask the rabbits to count noses (though they do send out some questionnaires to certain farmers and ask them to estimate whether certain species seem to be increasing or decreasing in their areas).

Routes by Biologists

Instead, since the late 1950s, the department has maintained a project under which two full-time biologists run "routes" through the state, year-round.

In the spring, traveling along specified routes under approximately the same weather conditions each year, they pause every mile and listen for two minutes. What they are listening for are mating and nesting sounds of quail, pheasants and doves.

By the summer, they conduct "brood counts", checking to see how many hens with broods of 5 to 11.

September Draft Call For 20 Inductions

A September draft call for 20 young men from Madison County for induction and 94 for physical examinations was announced yesterday by the Selective Service office. Both calls are below the August calls which are pending.

Called for induction Sept. 21 are nine young men from Alton, five from Edwardsville and six from the Quad-City area. Physical examination calls are for 45 from Alton, 24 from Edwardsville, both Sept. 21, and 25 from the Quad-Cities, due to report Sept. 22.

The highest lottery number to be used for inductions will remain at 75 in September, the same as in August, and the lottery limit for physical examinations will remain at 100, but born in 1953 with numbers of 25 or less were added to those eligible for examinations.

A total of 17 men from the Quad-Cities and 27 from Edwardsville are due to report for induction Aug. 24. The following day, 21 are to be inducted from Alton. Also on Aug. 24, 25 men from here and 56 from Edwardsville are to report for examinations with 45 from Alton to report the next day.

Pontoon Beach Youths

Four Pontoon Beach youths were charged with disorderly conduct after Granite City police stopped their car at 22nd Street and the railroad tracks at 12:25 a.m. yesterday. Police said they found several empty gasoline cans and a siphon hose in the vehicle.

Charged were Frank H. Marsala, 18, the driver, and Charles M. Bessey, 25, both of 2001 Jones Park, Randy L. Mayers, 19, of 17 Jones Park, and David L. Smith, 19, of 4101 Kaseberg Lane. They were released on $25 bond.

Donations Sought for Fund Raising Carnival

Donations of prizes, toys, candy, white elephant items and baked goods are being sought for a fund-raising event which will help purchase a bus for the retarded children of Madison County.

A group of Edwardsville teenagers will sponsor a Tiny Tot Carnival, bake sale and white elephant sale from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 9, at the Knights of Columbus grounds on Marine Road in Edwardsville.

The group, supervised by Betty Gallina of Edwardsville, has been collecting Betty Crocker coupons for the purchase of the bus. Proceeds from the carnival and sale will reduce the number of coupons necessary. Coupons still will be collected.

Those wishing to assist with donations, food, prizes, balloons, or candy are urged to contact Gallina at 1-656-4316 after 4 p.m.

Sweet Adelines Plan Annual Show Oct. 7

The Collinsville Chapter of Sweet Adelines Inc., an organization for women who sing four-part harmony, barbershop style, is beginning rehearsals for its fifth annual show.

This year's theme is "Roaring 20's". It will be presented Oct. 7 at the Webster Junior High School Auditorium in Collinsville. The annual show is produced to help support the chapter for the coming year, with some funds to be donated to the Oliver C. Anderson Hospital.

On the show bill are the "Mississippi Mudcats", a Dixieland jazz band, and "The Federal Reserve Notes", an area male quartet.

President of the chapter is Lee Phelps of Collinsville.

ARSON SUSPECTED

Arson is suspected in a fire which destroyed a shed at Sixth Street and Washington Avenue in Venice between 4:20 a.m. and 5:25 a.m. Tuesday, causing $500 damage. The shed, owned by the Boelling family, was engulfed in flames when Venice firemen arrived.

Child-Proof Container Drug Law Now in Effect

Federal Food and Drug Administration regulations now require that all prescription medication containing aspirin or controlled substances (such as stimulants) be packaged in "child-proof" containers. The new regulations are part of the Poison Prevention Packaging Act of 1970.

According to Roger Cain, executive director of the Illinois Pharmaceutical Association, his association welcomes the new regulations and, in fact, supports even broader packaging rules.

The containers placed to meet the new federal requirements are similar to conventional plastic prescription containers with the exception that, to open them, the cap must first be pushed down and then turned. According to Cain, the container manufacturers had to undergo a unique test to obtain FDA approval for their child-proof packages.

"Each manufacturer had to take his containers to a group of 200 children between the ages of 42 and 51 months. The group was evenly divided by age and sex and gathered in a place the children were familiar with, such as a school or nursery school."

"Each child was given a container and had five minutes in which to try to open it. No more than 15% of the children could open the package if it were to receive the FDA approval."

WINDSHIELDS BROKEN

Charles Baroff, 2632 Center St., reported at 8:45 a.m. Tuesday that vandals broke windshields on his 1970 and 1963 pickup trucks parked in front of his home during the night. Two large chunks of concrete and a large brick were used. Also damaged were roofs and hoods of the trucks. The amount of damage was estimated at $210.

TIRE STOLEN

Paul Radefeld, 2207 Edna St., reported at 9:15 a.m. Tuesday that someone punched out the trunk lock of his 1972 auto and stole the spare tire and rim while it was parked on his driveway during the night.

TIRE, RIM STOLEN

William Brown, 2237 Bryan Ave., reported at 12:10 p.m. Monday that a tire and rim valued at $12 were stolen from the front yard of his home.

demonstration on opening the container. They were then given five additional minutes. If less than 20% of them succeeded in opening the container, the package received the FDA's approval.

State Faces 'Iceberg' In Child Corrections

Copley News Service

Springfield — The Illinois Department of Children and Family Services is gearing up to do battle with an iceberg.

Next July 1, a provision of new Corrections Department ruling becomes effective, and youngsters 12 and under will no longer be committed to the State Department of Corrections if they run afoul of the courts.

Since the idea is to get youngsters out of institutions and into situations where they can receive more personal help with their problem "it wouldn't make sense for us to just take over St. Charles Training School, for example, and leave the kids in the same situation with just a new name on it," says Richard Bond, director of the Division of Child Welfare in the Department of Children and Family Services.

That means the youngsters who probably go to the homes, or perhaps into smaller private institutions, or more likely will remain in their own homes, receiving intensive services from caseworkers.

The hitch comes, the department is finding, in that it has no idea how many such youngsters it is going to have to handle.

If not considered crime, on Jan. 1, 1974, another section of the new code becomes effective, which will give the Children and Family Service Department responsibility in the future for all "children in need of supervision." These juveniles may be over 12 years of age, but accused of acts which, if committed by an adult, would not be considered a crime.

For example, says Dr. Roman Haremski, department director of program services, a youngster with a long record of truancy, glue-sniffing, running away from home, incorrigibility or being in a neighborhood house, in the past would finally have been committed to the Department of Corrections and possibly placed on probation.

Then, any single future repetition of his anti-social behavior would be termed a violation of probation, which is a criminal offense, and the youngster would be placed in a juvenile facility.

In the future, youngsters will only be committed to the Corrections Department if they are over 12, for actions which would also be criminal if committed by an adult. If under 12, they will be turned over to Corrections if the Department of Children and Family Services certifies it cannot find a suitable place for them.

"We don't know how many 'children in need of supervision' there will be either," Bond says, "but it will be a much larger group than the under-12's."

Most of these also will remain in their homes and receive intensive services from caseworkers, though foster homes or placement in a private institution may be better solutions for some. Undoubtedly, more staff, more caseworkers, more foster homes and more private institutions are going to be needed—but how many, and where?

"We're talking about an iceberg," says Haremski. "All we see now is a tiny tip, and we've no idea how big the part is that we can't see."

To try to find out, the department will soon distribute questionnaires to judges around the state, asking for information about the numbers of cases, the sexes, ages, offenses, charges and dispositions of the cases handled by their courts in recent years. This may, at least, give some idea of what the department will have to expect, Bond says.

There is one more problem. Many judges recently have felt youngsters, particularly those under 12, did not belong in a penal situation and so they did not commit these youngsters to any state authority.

Under the new provision, they may be more willing to commit a youngster to the Department of Children and Family Services, so the very change in the law may itself guarantee an increase in case loads, which can only be surmised, but not accurately estimated.

All the department knows for sure is that July 1, 1973, is getting closer day by day. As a sort of "trial run" they have gotten custody of about 52 youngsters 12 and under, and are working through them to develop the initial plan.

JUVENILES SHOOTING

Three boys were arrested in the 50 block of Mercedia Avenue in Venice this week and charged with firing guns. Involved were 14 and 15-year-old Madison boys and a 13-year-old Venice boy. The older boy also was held for a burglary investigation.

Randy Ezell, 14, of 3029 Edgewood Ave., was injured when his bicycle was struck by a car Monday evening. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 8:55 p.m., with pains to the right forearm and elbow and was released.

Drum, Bugle Corps Vie in Judging Here

Another View of the Black Knights shows them under the watchful eyes and ears of two judges seated at the table and another field judge making notes on the right. Judges were also located in the top section of the press box, allowing a view of the entire corps maneuvers.

Lower Left—A formation executed by the Garfield Cadets from Garfield, N. J., the first corps to be named to the Drum Corps Hall of Fame.

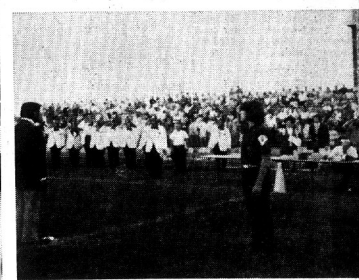

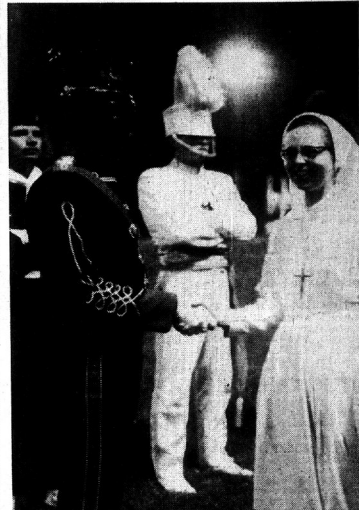

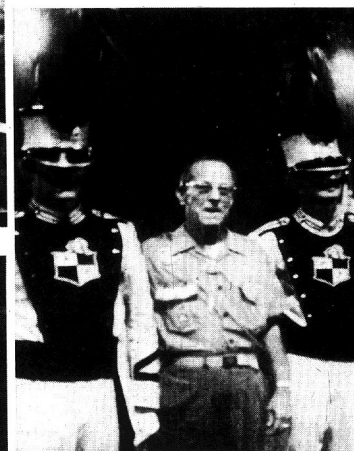

Top Center—The drum major of the Blue Raiders of Materie, La., receives first-place honors from Avery Schermer, center, president of the Tri-City Shrine Club, and Ainaid Shrine Temple Potentate Harold G. Baker Jr.

Lower Center—G. Rollin Henn, center, scout commissioner of the Cahokia Mound Council of Boy Scouts, stands with the drum majors of the Black Knights, who took third place. Mike Adams of Granite City is the drum major on the right.

Top Right—Sister Mary Thomas, administrator of St. Elizabeth Hospital, congratulates the Van Guards drum major. The Des Plaines, Ill., group placed second in Monday's competition. Its honors include the World's and U. S. Open titles, as well as the VFW national title.

Public, Parochial Schools Schedule Opening Classes

Public and parochial schools in the Quad-City area will open for the fall session Monday, Aug. 28, with the exception of St. Elizabeth in Granite City which will open for the first day on Wednesday, Aug. 30, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

The same hours will be observed on Thursday and Friday at St. Elizabeth, with the first full day to be Tuesday, Sept. 5.

Registration for new Granite City senior and junior high school students and for dropouts who wish to re-enter is now under way. Registration must be completed by Friday, Aug. 18, to permit scheduling of classes. A final registration will take place on Aug. 30 for those moving into the area.

Elementary student registration in Granite City will be held from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 24. Pupils will register at the schools they will attend.

Venice High School registration is open between 8 a.m. and 8:30 p.m. each day in the school office. Venice elementary students will be registered during the first day of classes.

Parochial school schedules include St. Margaret, Mary, which will have classes from 8:45 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. on Monday, Aug. 28. Classes on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, (Aug. 29-Sept. 1) will start at 8:45 a.m. and be dismissed at 1:45 p.m. with lunch being served.

St. Joseph's School will have half-day sessions from Monday, Aug. 28, through Friday, Sept. 1. A principal's workshop will be held Aug. 18 and 19 with registration open on the first day of school.

Half-Day Classes
Sacred Heart also will hold half-day classes from 8:45 a.m. to 12 noon, Aug. 28-Sept. 1. St. Mary's School in Madison and St. Mark's School in Venice will have the same hours, Monday, Aug. 28, through Friday, Sept. 1, classes will be conducted for half days.

All schools will begin full-day schedules on Tuesday, Sept. 5, with the school lunch program in full operation.

The Granite City School District's opening schedule begins with a principals' meeting Aug. 23 and orientation for new junior and senior high school students Aug. 24. New teachers will attend orientation sessions Aug. 29 and an opening faculty meeting is planned Aug. 28.

Pre-registration of kindergarten pupils and new students at Venice elementary schools will be taken on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 21-23, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 3 p.m.

Applications for A. O. Smith Corp. Student Loan

The local A. O. Smith Corp. plant has, for the fourth successive year, made available to the Southern Illinois University Foundation a student loan fund of $500.

The purpose of this fund is to provide assistance to students who are dependent children of A. O. Smith employees and, secondly, to provide assistance to students who graduate from high school in Granite City, Madison and Venice. To date, five children of A. O. Smith employees have benefited from the program.

Contributions will be restricted to full time students of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The loan will be interest free, and will be repaid to the University Foundation at the rate of $41.67 per month beginning on the tenth month after the recipient is no longer a full-time student at the university.

Students who qualify must make their request to Mr. Charles Baumann, Personnel Manager, A. O. Smith Corp., Granite City, who will certify their eligibility and forward the application to SIU. Requests must be received by Sept. 11, 1972.

Selections will be made from applications on hand as of Sept. 11 by the Scholarship and Loan Committee of the university.

In addition to the $500 student loan fund, the A. O. Smith plant also has again contributed a $50 annual Honor's Award in Physics.

This award will be made to upper classmen majoring in physics, and selections will be made by a committee appointed by the Dean of the Science and Technology Division and the chairman of the Faculty of Physics.

An agreement on the disposition of these funds has been worked out by Paul H. Kelly, plant manager of A. O. Smith here, and Charles Schweizer, assistant director, Southern Illinois University Foundation.

Bookmobile Service At Two Locations

The Granite City Public Library bookmobile will be available each Monday and Friday through the end of August.

On Monday, service will be provided from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Burger King Restaurant, 3406 Nameoki Road, and each Friday, the bookmobile will be at St. Elizabeth School from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Parents of the new registrants are to bring their birth certificates and records.

Enough State Fair Sheep to Buying Power Shows Increase

Copley News Service

Springfield—The Illinois State Fair has long been billed as the "world's greatest agricultural exposition," and the increase in livestock entries this year adds to that reputation.

"Illinois is one of the major agricultural centers of the world, and is second in total U. S. hog production," Ray Hanks, superintendent of the carcass show, said at the fair, which will close Sunday.

Hanks, of Champaign, pointed to the fair from the University of Illinois Animal Science Department. His job of taste-testing the choicest cuts of meat is not exactly an unpleasant task. He cites both quality and quantity of meat as variables for prize winners.

"Entrants come from all over the U. S., due to Illinois being in the mid-section of the country, with good facilities and promoters. We have several shows."

How weighing for the barrow show was the main event on the upper level of the Junior Livestock Building, with animals prodded onto huge tip scales on the lower level.

"These market animals are put into different classes by weight," he related. "Judging consists of a live judging and a dressed carcass judging."

"Some of the things we look for are muscle tone, color, firmness and marbling, or the number of flecks of fat in the muscle tissue. Quantity of meat in the percentage of ham and loin is important."

According to State Fair statistics, over 14,000 head of livestock are entered this year, an increase of 25% over last year's total.

The largest increase in entries comes in the swine department, where over 6,000 head are entered, nearly 1,600 more than last year.

Over 1,800 dairy cattle are entered, of those more than 1,400 are of the cud-chewing variety. More than 2,000 head of beef cattle are entered. Most of these are breeding animals, but nearly 500 steers are entered.

and they are sold for meat.

If Illinois State Fair cows produced only six gallons of milk a day, that would be nearly 9,000 gallons of milk.

The nearly 1,800 sheep housed in the sheep pavilion have the potential to give 16,000 pounds of wool. And if each sheep wears a coat of nine pounds of wool, that would make enough yarn for almost 16,000 sweaters.

Enforcement Loans, Grants Offered Here

The Federal Law Enforcement Education Program has awarded $38,000 in grants and loans to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to aid students interested in law enforcement, or law enforcement officers wanting to further their education.

According to John Jennetten, program coordinator in the SIUE Student Work and Financial Assistance Office, last year the program awarded $38,000 and only two students could be helped.

"This year we will be able to help 10 or 15 students, since the extra funding has been given to us," Jennetten said.

According to Jennetten, grants up to $800 are available to law enforcement officers to continue their education. Loans up to $1,800 a year are available under the program to undergraduates or graduate students interested in a career in law enforcement.

"Another important feature of the program is that for every year the student serves as an officer after graduation, 25% of the loan is paid off," Jennetten said.

Loans are made on the basis of need, and each student applying must be certified through the Human Services program at SIUE.

BACKS INTO PARKED CAR

The auto of Cecil Mitchell, 2040 Thirteenth St., backed into the parked car of Geraldine Stephens, 1236 Edwardsville Road.

Americans made more money in the first quarter of 1972 than they did in the last quarter of 1971. Statistics compiled and reported by the Department of Commerce show that personal income rose 2.7% over the first quarter of 1971.

The Great Lakes region experienced a 1.3% growth rate from fourth quarter 1971 to first quarter 1972, as compared with an overall advance in consumer prices of three-fourths of 1%. This means that the American public had more buying power in the first quarter of 1972 than it did in the last quarter of 1971.

In Illinois, personal income held its own with 1971 levels. Illinois' income average was higher in the first quarter of 1972 than the first quarter of 1971, and rose 2.3% from the last quarter of 1971.

Personal income consists mainly of wage and salary payments, proprietor's income, interest, rent, dividends and government transfers, less personal contribution for social security insurance.

GC Firemen Extinguish Three Car Fires Here

Granite City firemen extinguished three car fires Tuesday and Wednesday, one of which destroyed the interior of the auto of Dennis Dramer, causing $400 damage. The fire was reported at 3008 Sunbury Ave. The cause is unknown.

At 5:55 p.m. Tuesday the auto of Donald Gaumer, 250 Sunny Shores Mobile Home Park, was damaged by fire in the engine compartment started by a carburetor backfire at Nameoki Village Shopping Center. Damage was estimated at $25.

A cigarette thrown in the front seat also caused $25 damage to the interior of an abandoned auto at 2339 Pontoon Road at 12:30 a.m. yesterday.

So Close!

The St. Louis Goal of Air-Age Greatness!

The St. Louis region is the natural U. S. center of air transportation. It is within closer reach of all of our nation's people and of people throughout the world than is any other U. S. metropolitan center.

Only 19 miles from the St. Louis area's central business district and almost exactly at the population center of the United States, the proposed new intercontinental airport at Columbia-Waterloo is a natural "hub" for the world's new air age.

So Close To Reality

We are so close to having the intercontinental airport required for the St. Louis region; so close to the goal of a great new airport with maximum economic benefit and minimum environmental impact that eagerness for a decision without further delay is the natural mood of progressive minds.

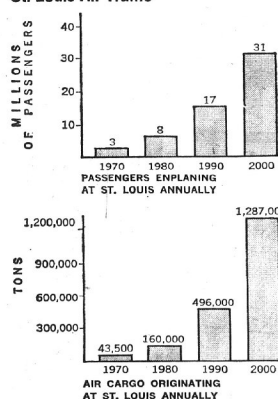

The Alternative Is Stagnation

The air age is here now. It will not wait. Nationwide, 7,000 new passengers turn to air travel daily. Nine years ago, only 33% of our nation's adults had flown commercially. Today the figure is 45%. The young adults are even more air-minded; 60% of them have flown commercially. And the median age of our population is 28 years!

The estimated U. S. population growth of 70-100 million in the next 30 years (despite our declining birth rate) further emphasizes the urgency of a new primary airport for the St. Louis region if it is to keep pace in this air age. The only alternative is to resign our metropolitan area to stagnation and decline as the nation and world increasingly fly past us.

Merely to keep pace, the St. Louis region must be prepared to handle at least 17 million enplaning passengers annually by 1990 compared with less than 4 million now. It is impossible to expand Lambert Field sufficiently to handle that traffic volume without greatly increasing its size. And that would mean displacing or otherwise disrupting approximately 100,000 residents of St. Louis County — more than 10% of its total 1970 population!

Anticipated Growth Of St. Louis Air Traffic

In the next seven years, St. Louis will need facilities to serve more than twice as many passengers as now enplane at Lambert Field; and the 31,000,000 passengers anticipated by the year 2000 must have a primary airport of Columbia-Waterloo capacity. The 43,500 tons of air cargo now originating at Lambert annually is little more than one-fourth the tonnage predicted from St. Louis in 1990.

Chicago's O'Hare Field, more than four times the size of Lambert and with seven runways, exclusive access roads, and huge terminal facilities, has such congestion that it cannot adequately handle its 14,000,000 boarding passengers annually. A new, larger air carrier airport already is designated for Chicago.

The St. Louis region must think big to grasp the full requirements for its proper role in the air age. Eighteen thousand acres is a rule of thumb for sizing a primary airport "hub" ample for handling the future air traffic of a major metropolitan center. Lambert Field has only 1,850 usable acres, less than one-tenth the area that is required.

Action, Not Talk, Is Needed Now

Talk about the need for a new St. Louis airport has been going on for years — ever since 1947! "It has been studied," says the FAA head, "almost to the point of exhaustion." From all the talk has come no proposal of a suitable Missouri site; no Missouri effort to fully qualify such a site by meeting federal aviation and environmental requirements; no Missouri money sufficient to acquire such a site and to build needed expressways and rapid transit access to it.

Our Chance Has Come At Last

But all of the above needs are met with the Columbia-Waterloo site. It has been fully qualified as the best available site for a new primary St. Louis regional airport. The Illinois legislature has appropriated $15,000,000 to acquire the site and $3,500,000 to qualify it fully. Illinois also has appropriated needed funds for ample highway access to the site and has announced a $102,000,000 plan of rapid transit to it.

The Master Plan coordinators have been selected, and a nationwide search is underway for the Master Plan team for this giant, new facility. All that is needed now is the final decision to make St. Louis an air age center; federal approval of our region's most suitable — and only acceptable — site for one of the world's greatest airports.

Lambert A Part Of Master Plan

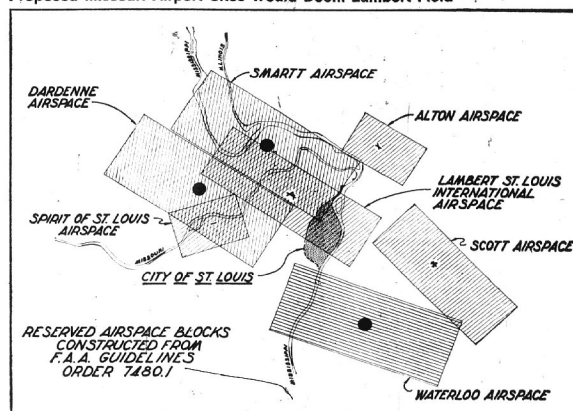

This is not to eliminate Lambert Field as a major air facility of the future. In fact, the Columbia-Waterloo site helps to assure the continued use of Lambert. Proposed Missouri sites would "lock out" Lambert from any future commercial use. They would choke off Lambert Field with conflicting air space requirements. Columbia-Waterloo avoids this air-space conflict; leaves Lambert Field free to continue as a vital aviation facility.

Relief For Surface Traffic Burden

A new airport northwest of St. Louis would only add to the present monstrously heavy flow of commuter traffic on roadways and freeways in that "growth corridor" of the metropolitan area. Such an airport 40 to 50 miles from the city, as it would, have to be to avoid conflict with Lambert Field airspace, could not serve the best interests of travelers to St. Louis or residents of our two-state metropolitan region.

Kansas City has coped effectively with a similar problem by locating its new airport (to be operating this year) across the Missouri River and almost 20 miles north of the city's central business district. This is in the opposite direction from the area's primary growth corridors extending more than 10 miles south of the central city and 30 miles from the new airport. Thus Kansas City has ensured the future importance of its urban center and has removed its airport access traffic from the congestion of the area's normal commuter traffic flow.

Proposed Missouri Airport Sites Would Doom Lambert Field

The Columbia-Waterloo site will be served by a rapid transit system and by arterial highways and bridges not already burdened with heavy traffic flow. But work can begin on these fast-access facilities only after a final decision has been reached on the site.

Major Gain For St. Louis

Locating the new airport at Columbia-Waterloo would revitalize St. Louis as could no other single project.

Almost 5,000 new jobs would result directly or indirectly during each of the five years of airport construction. Personal incomes from those jobs in each of the years are expected to total $40 million, with Missourians getting $23.4 million of the total.

Jobs resulting directly and indirectly when the airport is operating would average 33,000 annually the first 10 years. Personal income from those jobs is estimated at $144 million annually; about 60% of this going to Missourians.

Labor Poses No Problem

The St. Louis area badly needs this airport project now to combat currently depressed conditions and severe unemployment in its construction industry.

The Authority, under whose jurisdiction the new airport will be constructed, fully anticipates pledges of cooperation from political and labor leaders to forestall labor disputes or delays. A highly respected labor leader is one of five present members of the Authority. Contractors and representatives of construction workers of both states will work in full understanding and written agreement with the Authority as to procedures and responsibilities.

No Losses Or "Land-Grabs" At Site

As soon as a decision is made on the site, the Authority plans to acquire all of the site's 18,650 acres immediately and at fairly appraised value as provided by law. This would prevent speculation in and inflated prices for any portions of the site. Land not needed for initial construction or operation would be leased back to users until needed.

Vital To The Central City

The importance of a decision on this intercontinental airport to the revitalization of St. Louis cannot be overstated. Assurance of a St. Louis destined to be an air-age gateway could rejuvenate commercial activity, attract new industry and stimulate major programs of civic improvement. It would trigger the needed support and construction of the new convention center, rapid transit system, downtown redevelopment — the saving of the city's vital heart.

The Dallas/Ft. Worth area expects that its new airport, now nearing completion, will do for its region what railroads did for Chicago in earlier years. St. Louis's more central location makes our opportunity even more significant. It is a once-in-a-century opportunity for air-age greatness.

The Future Already Is Here

There is no more time left to ponder our potential. We must seize it or forget it. A new, primary air carrier facility such as proposed at Columbia-Waterloo takes 10 years to plan, construct and open for operations. An airport site decision today would be for an airport by 1982 at the earliest. Any further postponement of the decision would forfeit this opportunity to some other more alert midwest metropolis.

All progressive St. Louisans should be excited by this immediate opportunity for our metropolitan area. They should also be concerned that partisan prejudice and personal self-interest threaten this opportunity in delaying it still further. We are so close to air-age greatness for St. Louis. It is one step away. All bold St. Louisans surely have the courage to take that step.

The New St. Louis Intercontinental Airport to be built and operated by the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority.
Robert B. Lamkin, Chairman

Regional Report - Park, Sewer Progress Here

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)

Madison County has received the endorsement of the board of East-West Gateway Coordinating Council on applications for $7 million in funds to help finance construction of a sanitary sewer system in Nantook, Chouteau and Venice Townships.

The applications contain requests for about $3.2 million from the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, $38 million from the Federal Environmental Protection Agency and nearly $1.2 million from the state of Illinois.

The total projects, which will provide a new system of interceptor and collector sewers, is estimated to cost over $12 million.

Detailed construction plans are being prepared in order that financing procedures can be completed early next year.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD Page 12 Thurs., Aug. 17, 1972

Ground was broken for the new Northtown Shopping Center on a 33-acre tract at the north edge of Highland near Basler Electric Co.

The first building of 12,000 square feet will house a Glik's Department Store and two other firms. The building is expected to be completed by next February.

A second phase building, containing 20,000 square feet, is planned to be completed within one year. The center is planned to ultimately provide 70,000 square feet of space.

The City of East St. Louis has received notice of the approval of a $3 million plan variation grant. The allocation from the Department of Housing and Urban Development fulfills the second part of a $3.8 million commitment to the city.

Funds will be used in 36 different programs, including various public works projects and land acquisition for a new industrial park.

Home Savings and Loan Association has completed preliminary plans and design work for its new main office in Alton.

Construction of the building, of contemporary design, is expected to begin soon, with completion in the summer of 1973. The association was organized in 1902 and now has assets of over $25 million.

Illinois Department of Conservation officials have begun talks with owners of property expected to become part of the proposed $4 million Horseshoe Lake State Park. Eighty acres out of a total of 3,100 acres have been purchased by the state to date.

Officials say that purchase of properties should begin about mid-September and be completed by September 1973.

The park is proposed to encompass lands along the north, east and south sides of the lake, with a connection to be made to the existing Cahokia Mounds State Park.

The Madison County Planning Commission voted to recommend that the county spend up to $5,000 to hire the Southwest Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission to review a proposed county land use plan. The review process is expected to cost $8,000, the balance being made up from other sources.

Adoption of a county-wide land use plan is being urged in order that the county can remain eligible for various federal water and sewer improvement project grants.

In labor news, the strike of Ironworkers Local 302 continues, and strikers and contractors were meeting in an attempt to settle the dispute. An estimated $300 million in construction projects was halted by the strike. A proposed increase in health, welfare and pension funds is at issue.

St. Louis Downtown Air Park has been granted an extension to Sept. 4 on its lease of property near Cahokia Mounds State Park. The extension was granted at the request of a Collinsville airport study committee and will give owners of aircraft at the property more time in which to re-locate their planes.

INSECT CAUSES MISHAP

Stephan J. Sturdivant, 17, of 2108 Elm Ave., suffered minor injuries when he slipped at a mosquito on his arm, lost control of his auto and struck the rear of the auto of Bill Turner, 2017 Elm Ave., parked in front of his home at 9 a.m. Tuesday, according to police.

STEREO, KNIFE STOLEN

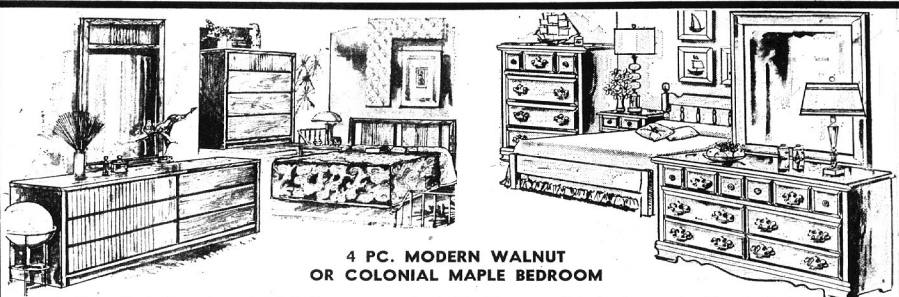

Paul Turner, 2043 Quincy St., reported at 4:20 p.m. Monday that a stereo tape set valued at $79 and a white puma hunting knife valued at $25 were stolen from his auto parked on the General Steel Industries lot while he was at work. Entry was gained by breaking a right wing window.

BRAKES FAIL

Pete Skundrich, 1617 Elizabeth St., Madison, reported the brakes on his car failed as he was making a right turn from Madison Avenue onto 10th Street in Madison and his auto struck the parked car of Jimmy G. Brustfield, 923a Madison Ave., Madison, at 12:50 a.m. Tuesday.

Plant Manager Gets Probation in Tax Case

Donald B. Mackay, United States Attorney for the Southern District of Illinois, and Leon C. Green, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, announced that Richard G. Wooley, Lockhaven Hill Lane, Godfrey, 46-year-old plant manager of Ferro Processing Corp. of Granite City, was sentenced to three years probation and $1,000 fine by United States District Judge Omer Poos at Springfield Monday for income tax evasion.

Wooley was found guilty by jury trial on Feb. 18, 1970, for willfully attempting to "evade and defeat a large part of his and his wife's income taxes for the calendar years 1964 through 1966 in violation of Section 7201 of the Internal Revenue Code."

One of the conditions of the probation is that Mr. Wooley settle all back taxes within two years with the Internal Revenue Service.

The case was presented by United States Attorney Donald B. Mackay and was based on evidence developed by special agents of the Intelligence Division, Internal Revenue Service.

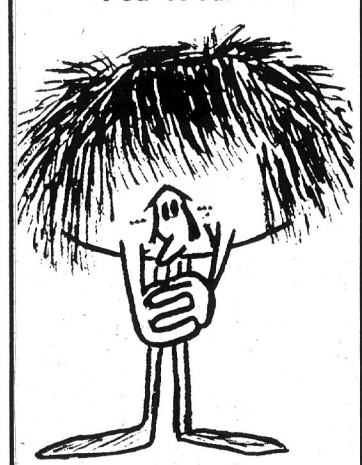

GLUE SNIFFING CHARGE

Donald Wayne Williamson, 17, of St. Louis, was arrested by Venice police on Garner Road, Rerr Island, at 4:45 p.m. Monday and was charged with illegal use of an intoxicating compound. He allegedly had been inhaling glue from plastic bags. He was released on $30 bond.

BOY BITTEN BY DOG

Ronnie Cooker, 7, of Kansas City, Mo., was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital this week after he was bitten by a dog in the 1400 block of Third Street, Madison. The dog had received rabies inoculation within the past year.

Dine In Elegance With "FLOWER GARDEN"
Stainless Steel Flatware.
at an exceptionally low price.

WATCH YOUR "FLOWER GARDEN" GROW!

This is flatware to use proudly no matter who's coming to dinner. The attractive pattern dresses up the table and adds a bright, festive note to the conversation as well as to the meal. Guests will enjoy having a Flower Garden of their own for a place setting.

It's also flatware to use often. Even if no one but the family is coming to dinner, Flower Garden is made of Stainless Steel, which, every day, is becoming more popular with smart homeowners. And for good reason. Not only does Stainless Steel look beautiful on the table, it's beautiful to care for. Never needs polishing or special hand-care. Goes right into the dishwasher along with everything else. It's always ready when you want it, Flower Garden is sturdy, comfortable to handle, an all-around pleaser. Ordinarily, you'd pay a lot more for this quality flatware. Come in and see the display for yourself.

Bible Class Aids Indian Mission

The Phoebe Bible Class of the Calvary Baptist Church held its monthly meeting Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Bertha Dickinson, 10 Raney Drive, East St. Louis.

Mrs. Stella Rushing led the class in opening with the singing of hymns, followed by prayer by Mrs. Gussie Hessman.

Mrs. Dickinson presented the devotionals.

Mrs. May Williams, president, presided over the business session with Mrs. Gussie Hessman and Mrs. Lorna Hutson giving reports of the July meeting. Cards were sent to members having birthdays and members of the class who are ill.

The members are sending new clothing and school supplies to the Indians in Arizona. The Rev. Allison Holman is the Home Missionary and is at the First Pagoda Baptist Church, Sells, Ariz.

Others taking part were Mesdames Lucy Dickinson, Lola Miller, Mary Youngblood, Elizabeth Knight, Gussie Kissick and Mary Kingsley.

A hymn was sung for the closing, followed by prayer for the revival to be held Sept. 4-10. A period of prayer was held during the meeting by each member for the revival service.

Mrs. Beatrice Henry will hold the next meeting Sept. 19 in her home, 1728 Spring Ave.

Party Honors Navy Enlistee

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Manniger, 5152 Lake Drive, entertained guests this week at a combination farewell and birthday graduation party honoring their son, Bruce Manniger.

The honoree who enlisted in the U. S. Navy for four years, will leave later this month for the U. S. Naval Training Center in Orlando, Fla.

A buffet dinner was served by the hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Steve Konovich, Mr. and Mrs. Les Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wickham, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Batolata, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Varner.

Mesdames Maxine Barr, Carl Fischer, Alice Hill, Dee McKinson, Gus Koesterer, Esther Kimball, Pearl Yates and Miss Pam Macias, fiancée of the honored guest.

Also attending were Glenn Greer, Harry Smith, Greg Robinson, Larry Holder, Lou Lassie and Bud Wilkins.

Kathleen Carroll Is Shower Guest

Miss Kathleen Carroll was honored at a personal shower Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Verna Ruebhausen at 4008 Rode Ave.

Laundry was used in the home decorations as lavender will be worn by the bridesmaids at Miss Carroll's wedding.

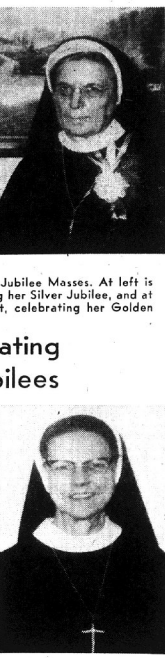

Miss Judy Carroll, sister of the bride-to-be, assisted in opening the gifts. Games were played with prizes awarded to Mrs. Virginia Carroll, Mrs. Jane Eli and Mrs. Joyce Warren.

The wedding of Miss Carroll and Lt. Ronnie Ruebhausen will take place at the Religious Center in Edwardsville on Sept. 2. Refreshments were served to 23 relatives and friends of the couple.

KATIE TALBERT HONORED ON EIGHTH BIRTHDAY

Katie Talbert celebrated her eighth birthday at a party given by her father, Hugh Talbert, in their home at 2048 Pontoon Road. Assisting the host was Mrs. Frances Baker who directed the games and served refreshments.

Those attending were Willie Talbert, Donnie, Debbie and David Ozier, Joey Baker, Jeffrey Baker, Mary Jane Bushong and Mr. Joe Baker Sr.

Sisters Celebrating 50th, 25th Jubilees

Sister Mary Benedict, chief pharmacist at St. Elizabeth Hospital, has just celebrated her Golden Jubilee.

Sister Mary Benedict entered the Order of the Sisters of Divine Providence in 1922, and began her duties in the hospital's pharmacy in 1935.

Also celebrating her golden jubilee is Sister Mary Clement, who came to America from Germany in 1922.

A Silver Jubilee Mass was observed by Sister Dorothy Kiel, it was announced this week.

The Jubilee Mass was celebrated at the Motherhouse, Mount Providence, Normandy, Mo.

Sister Mary Benedict, Sister Mary Clement and Sister Dorothy Kiel renewed their vows at the Mass, which was attended by many friends and relatives.

A reception was given in honor of the Sisters. A Mass will be held at the hospital here this week to honor the jubiliaries.

Sister Mary Benedict, Sister Mary Clement's nephew, a priest from Germany, will be here to celebrate the Mass.

Local Women Attend Convention

Mrs. Valerie Stevens, president of Beta Eta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society, and Mrs. Georgia Engelke, attended the international convention of the Society at the Shamrock-Hilton Hotel in Houston, Tex.

The two Granite City women were among 2,700 who attended the week long convention representing 50 states, six Canadian provinces, Norway and Sweden. The Society boasts 120,000 key women teacher members.

The convention included seven general sessions as well as special sessions and committee meetings. Tours were scheduled every afternoon to points of interest in the area.

Highlighting the convention was a birthday luncheon marking the 43 birthday of the organization, when 18 scholarship recipients were named for long-term awards.

An award of $1,000 also was presented to Mrs. Elizabeth Janeway for the best book written by a woman during the year. Entitled "Man's World-Woman's Place" will be on the news stands this month.

Mrs. Evelyn Smith presented a devotional lesson from Psalm 23.

Plans were made to prepare a "sunshine box" for Charles Sparks and Mrs. Helen Gilham, who are patients in the hospital.

Those attending were the Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Dutton, Mesdames Esther Davis, Margaret Newberry and daughter Karen, Betty King, Norma Rains, Gloria Burnett and daughter Donna, Gladys Hudgens, Alma Burnett and daughter Cordean, Isabelle Burnett, Frances Sims, Hilda Barnes and children Carla and Jimmy, Naomi Burnett, Eunice Lindsey and Betty Lewis.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Dutton, 2100 Illinois Ave.

Mr. & Mrs. Neidhardt Renew Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur (Martha) Neidhardt, 1889 Second St., Madison, were guests of honor at a surprise reception given by their children in observance of their 25th wedding anniversary this week at Venice Recreation Hall.

A buffet luncheon was served to more than 100 guests received by the honorees during the afternoon and evening.

Hosts were sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Neidhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Neidhardt and their daughter, Miss Cathy Neidhardt.

Assisting at the reception was Miss Terri Taylor and Miss Margaret Gouy. Mr. and Mrs. Neidhardt renewed their wedding vows Aug. 9 in services at Temple Baptist Church with the Rev. Jack Gouy officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Taylor attended the couple and special music was furnished by the Rev. Charles McNair and Norman Fenton, both vocalists.

After the ceremony, a dessert luncheon was served in the church hall.

Janet Harrison Honored at Shower

A pre-wedding shower this week honored Miss Janet Harrison. The event was held at the Annets Post 51 Home, and was given by Miss Hogan, Mrs. Joann Harrison, Mrs. Virginia Pritchard, Mrs. Cheryl Barton and Mrs. Ann Tucker.

Deep pink and turquoise-colored streamers and wedding bells decorated the hall. Pink roses in bud vases were used on the guest tables and a centerpiece of a large pink satin wedding band, wedding bells, roses, stephanotis and pink netting adorned the main table. A sheet cake decorated with pink and turquoise rose buds centered the refreshment table.

Games were played under the direction of Mrs. Tucker with prizes awarded by Miss Denise Tucker and Mrs. Barton to the winners.

The bride-elect was assisted in opening her gifts by her mother, Mr. and Mrs. Gail Blair, and bridesmaids Miss Gloria Sienkewicz and Mrs. Donna Mueller, and Miss Nils Condis who will be in charge of the guest book.

A buffet luncheon was served to Mesdames Nadine Harrison, the bride-elect's mother; Mrs. Eva Johnson, the groom's mother; and Edna Nagy and Helen Harrison, grandmothers of the bride-elect; Mrs. Joe Johnson, the groom's grand mother, and Nan Shone, James Milson, "Ray Wilkins, Betty Wilkins, Millie Condis, Rosalie Heller and daughter, Jane Lois Ferrer and daughter, Laurie, Louise Tucker, Freddy

MRS. BRIDGES HOSTESS TO SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS

Mrs. Bonnie Bridges was hostess to the Lady Sunday School Class of First Baptist Church in her home, 2063

Rhodes St., Monday evening. Mrs. Lucille Veach, class teacher, offered prayer.

The class color, motto, aim and Scripture were given in unison. Each member responded to roll call by giving the meaning of "faith."

Mrs. Veach presented the devotional, using as her topic "Blessed Assurance." New class booklets are being made and will be given out in the near future.

Plans were made for the class to send a gift to the Carmi Baptist Children's Home for a little girl to whom they send gifts on special occasions.

The hostess served refreshments to Mesdames Veach, Marie Lassen, Monnie Jackson, Beverly Shelton, Sue Jones, Doris Macklin, Norma Eaves and Treva Williams.

SURPRISED ON BIRTHDAY
Mrs. Jo Ann Graklanoff of Rome, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Williams and children, Kim, Brett and Shara, planned a surprise birthday party honoring Mrs. Lenna Williams of Madison, mother of Jo Ann and Don, in the Williams home at Edwardsville.

The home was decorated for the occasion, with a "surprise" inscription over the door. Those at the home included Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Purcell and also Mr. and Mrs. Edward Little, brother and sister-in-law of the honoree.

Mrs. Graklanoff returned to Madison with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Little, and with Mrs. Lenna Williams, who had spent two weeks visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jerry (Joan) Graklanoff and seeing points of interest in New York and Canada.

Mrs. Graklanoff returned to New York Tuesday.

CUB PACK 28 FISHING DERBY ON SATURDAY

Cub Pack 28 will sponsor a "fishing derby" on Saturday, Aug. 19, with special awards going to the cub scouts with the largest catch, the smallest catch and the most fish caught. The family outing will take place at Engineers Lake in Mitchell between 9 a.m. and noon.

Each scout is to furnish his own equipment and bait, and must bring a signed parent consent form.

Any boy in the third, fourth or fifth grades or aged eight, nine or 10 is eligible to join the pack, which will hold its first regular meeting of the year on Monday, Sept. 11, at Parkway School. The PTA is sponsor of the unit.

Explorer Post to Make Canoe Trip

Canoeing, fishing and a diet of dehydrated foods await members of Explorer Post 10, who will leave Sunday at 6:30 a.m. for a four-day trip down the Current River in southern Missouri.

Post 10-4, sponsored by the Madison Lions Club and the Police Department, will leave from the Madison Police Department for Boy Scout Camp Sunnen where they will pick up the canoes and then proceed to Akers Ferry, Mo., where they will enter the river.

The Explorers will travel approximately 35 miles a day on the river and end their trip late Wednesday south of Big Springs, Mo.

This is the first of a series of training events Explorer Post 10-4 will hold prior to next year's trip down the Colorado river through the Grand Canyon in rubber rafts.

J. Richard Hooks, Jim Howell and Phil Daniels, associate advisors of the post, will be in charge of the trip. Hooks was director of Boy Scout Camp Sunnen this summer and Dan-

TRUCK-AUTO ACCIDENT

A truck driven by Conrad Shepard, 2610 Missouri Ave., and an auto driven by Joyce A. Rankin, 2743 Michigan Ave., were in an accident Monday at 23rd Street and Edison Avenue.

Nameoki Faces Problem of Trash Collection

The Nameoki Town Board Monday night appointed a committee to investigate the costs of collecting trash collection in the township.

The appointments followed complaints by Louis Whittell, township supervisor, and Albert Bell, highway commissioner, that they are being besieged by telephone calls from township residents complaining that because of the open burning ban, they are collecting more trash than private haulers are willing to take.

Whittell reported that under the pending House Bill 2463, townships would have the authority to contract for trash collection if the plan is approved by a special meeting of township residents.

The bill must be passed by the state legislature before any action can be taken by the township.

Bell said he was answering normal collection calls but that his department was unable to collect tree limbs and trash from private property and still maintain the roads in the township.

Settle Old Sult In other business, the township auditors voted to accept an out-of-court settlement of a township supervisor Harry Briggs, and John Karlechik, former town clerk, on a three-year-old suit to recover per diem fees which allegedly were paid illegally to the two former officials.

The settlement called for a payment of $800 by Briggs and $300 by Karlechik to the township.

The original suit called for Briggs to return $3,005 in per diem fees paid, and for Karlechik to return $12,040. The auditors agreed to the settlement after the township attorney, William Schooley, informed them that the 5-year statute of limitations might be applied to the case by the courts, reducing the amounts due to $1,465 from Briggs and $400 from Karlechik.

Schooley advised that the settlement be accepted due to the high court costs that would be encountered in attempting to collect the full amount the auditors felt was due.

The board received a $60 refund from Edgar Patrick, township tax collector, as the balance from the $500 advanced to him for the cost of collecting taxes. A list of bills paid during the collection period was included.

Patrick also requested that his annual salary of $6,000 be paid and asked that social security payments not be deducted. Whittell requested that Schooley give a legal opinion on the deductions before the board voted on paying the salary.

A bid from Midwest Blacktop Road Inc. of Collinsville was accepted for various road repair materials. It was the only bid received. Bell recommended acceptance.

BACKS INTO CAR The auto of Ann Garcia, 2000 McCasland Ave., Madison, backing from a parking space, struck the auto of Arthur Smith, 125 Weaver St., Venice, which was stopped for a traffic light at Sixth Street and Madison Avenue, at 2:10 p.m. yesterday.

ATTEND GRADUATION AT ALABAMA UNIVERSITY Mr. and Mrs. Frank Minars, 2541 Benton St., returned Monday evening from Tuscaloosa, Ala., where they attended the graduation of their daughter Mrs. Mary Ann Bright at the University of Alabama.

Mrs. Bright received her Bachelor of Science degree in Education. Before the graduation they attended a reception for students and parents given by president David Matthews of the University at the President's Mansion on campus. Also attending the graduation was Mrs. Bright's husband, William Bright of Granite City. The graduate will now make her home in Granite City. She is a 1968 graduate of Granite City High School.

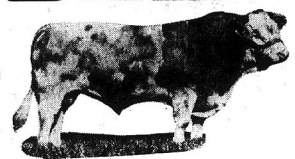

MALCOLM THOMPSONS ENTERTAIN GUESTS Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Thompson, 4170 Breckenridge Lane, entertained their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Al Baukauskas and daughter Kelly of Streamwood, Ill., during the weekend. The out-of-town guests returned to their home Tuesday.

Trower-Votoupal Wedding At St. Joseph's Church

St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding on Aug. 12 of Miss Marlene D. Votoupal, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Votoupal, Rural Route One, Granite City, and Dave A. Trower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Trower, 2500 East 24th St. Altar bouquets of white summer flowers adorned the altar for the double-ring ceremony at 2 p.m. performed by the Rev. Henry Mack.

Mrs. Margaret MacZura, soloist, sang "We've Only Just Begun," "One Hand, One Heart," "Ave Maria," "The Lord's Prayer" and the "Wedding Song," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Cleta Judd.

The bride wore a lovely gown of white chantilly lace fashioned with a natural-fitted waistline and a very full gathered skirt. Long bishop sleeves tapered at the wrists with a wide band of lace was fitted into the bodice exquisitely etched with seed pearls and iridescent sequins.

An apron of matching lace edged with a lace ruffle encircled the skirt and was designed to reveal a cascade of lace tiers at the back that fell gently into a cathedral train.

She wore a headpiece of dactylon orange rose buds and petals embellished with lace and seed pearls that secured a mantilla veil of bridal illusion trimmed with scalloped lace. Her bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white carnations and lily of the valley.

Miss Carolyn Raynor was the maid of honor, Mrs. Norma Cochran, a sister of the groom, Miss Tina Polach, the bride's cousin, and Miss Debbie Votoupal, a niece of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Terrie Robinson served as junior bridesmaid and Amelia and Michael Votoupal, a niece and nephew of the bride, were the flower girl and ringbearer.

The honor attendant chose a mint green dress and the bridesmaids appeared in petal pink, lilac, yellow and ice blue.

Fashioned of dotted swiss over taffeta, the gowns were designed with high mandarin collars and long sheer sleeves. Lace trim accented the high rise waists, collars and cuffs.

White Venise lace bands inserted with rows of tiny matching ribbon and streamers trimmed their hats of matching colored spun straw and they held bouquets of mixed colored carnations.

The little flower girl was in a white dotted swiss frock enhanced with green trim. She carried a basket of flower petals.

Wesley Warren was chosen by the groom to be his best man, serving with groomsmen Ray Hoffman, Russell Robinson, William Glowacki, cousin of the bride, and Rudy Votoupal Jr., nephew of the bride.

Joseph, Richard and Rudy Votoupal, brother's of the bride, seated relatives and friends as they arrived at the church.

A dinner was served at the Round Table Restaurant for members of the wedding party and families the evening prior to the wedding given by the groom's parents.

The evening reception was held at the VFW Hall, 2044 Washington Ave. They will reside at the Pontiac Plaza Apartments following their honeymoon to the Ozarks.

Both the bride and groom attended Granite City High School.

MR. AND MRS. DAVE A. TROWER whose wedding was solemnized at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, the bride is the former Miss Marlene Votoupal, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Votoupal of Granite City.

Miss Diane Rae Jurgena Bride of Davey A. Busch

Miss Diane Rae Jurgena became the bride of Davey A. Busch on Aug. 3 in a private ceremony at St. John's Lutheran Church in Collinsville.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doris E. Hudson, Rural Route Five, Dunlap Lake, Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Art Busch, reside at 1360 Mary Drive.

Officiating at the afternoon double-ring ceremony was the Rev. Alvin Kollman.

For her wedding the bride wore a street-length dress of organza over taffeta fashioned with a sabrina neckline and long puffed sleeves. A satin band and bow marked the Empire waist of the A-line dress.

A ballerina-style veil of illusion was secured by a matching white satin bow. She carried a colonial bouquet of red roses, pink carnations and a spray of white baby breath.

Connie Hudson, the bride's mother, served as matron of honor and Ron Schrage, a friend of the groom, was best man.

The honor attendant chose a pink dress designed in similar fashion as the bride's gown and wore a matching veil in her hair. Her flowers was a nosegay of white carnations with pink Sweetheart roses.

A graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the former Miss Jurgena will teach junior high language arts and reading in Edinburg, Ill.

Mr. Busch attended SIUE is employed in Edwardsville. He and his wife will begin a wedding trip to a wedding trip to the Ozarks, the couple will reside at 720 East Poplar St., Taylorville, Ill. after Sept. 1.

Linda Stack Becomes Mrs. David B. Kelley

Miss Linda Stack, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Stack, 3009 Maryville Road, and Private First Class David Kelley, U.S. Marine Corps, were married on Aug. 8, in a civil ceremony in Belleville.

The bride chose a wine-colored jump suit, complemented with a long-sleeved pink blouse. Her corsage was a combination of white carnations.

Attending the couple were Miss Kathy Paschedag, as maid of honor, and Dennis Yarbrough as best man.

Miss Paschedag selected a pink dress accented with a corsage of white carnations tipped pink.

The couple have left for San Diego where the groom is stationed. He will begin an 18-month course in electronics at the California Marine Base.

Mexican Commission Plans Fiesta

The Mexican Honorary Commission is completing plans for a September fiesta to be held at the Venice-Madison American Legion hall on Saturday, Sept. 23.

Prayer by Mail Program Started

A new type of ministry, to be known as the "prayer room" has been opened in Collinsville by the Rev. Laura Pulley, an Assembly of God minister.

She has been serving as a minister since 1938 and with the approval of the Illinois District Council of the Assembly of God Churches, has developed the idea for a place where persons in need of help may write or call by telephone to discuss their problems.

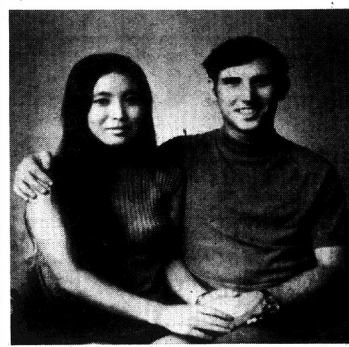

"This will be a full time telephone and correspondence ministry for the purpose of trying to reach the unreachable in all walks of life," Rev. Pulley said.

Although the program was initiated last month all phases are not yet complete. Letters may be sent to The Prayer Room, 516 N. Center St., Collinsville, Ill. 62234. A telephone service will be announced later.

MR. AND MRS. R. W. STEVENS RETURN FROM TEXAS

City Clerk and Mrs. R. W. Stevens returned home this week after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Russell North of Abilene, Tex. and other friends in Dallas and San Antonio.

Mrs. Stevens also attended the international convention of the Press-Record was submitted by Lazebny Studio, 2820 Nameoki Road. The credit line was inadvertently omitted. The bride is the former Miss Diane Deidiker, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Deidiker, 2525 Pine St.

Gardenaires Meet In Edwardsville

The Gardenaires Garden Club held its August meeting in the home of Mrs. William Long, Rural Route Three, Edwardsville.

After a dessert luncheon, roll call was taken, each member giving pertinent facts about the herb "dill"; herbs are the growing project for the year.

Mrs. C. E. Eads, president, called the meeting to order and welcomed Mrs. Roy Hormann, a guest.

Mrs. Earl Glenn, Mini-Garden Information Center chairman, reported on the new display at the public library on a horticulture topic, "propagation of cacti," prepared with the assistance of Mrs. Mary Kristian, club member and member of the St. Louis Cacti Association.

Mrs. Charles Kohl, district Garden Center chairman, announced that plans are under way for a program to be held in connection with the Mini-Garden Center.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Carl Huseman of the Collinsville Garden Club. She is a flower show judge for the Garden Club of Illinois. Her topic for the program will be, "How to Dry and Preserve Flowers and Wayside Material for Home Decoration."

The program will be held Thursday, Sept. 28 at the Namoki Recreation Center from 10 a.m. to noon. The program is free and open to the public.

Exhibits for the day were miniature gardens planted in upturned buttons. Succulents or cacti plantings are usually used because of their stability.

Mrs. Glenn presented the afternoon program entitled "Microclimates in the Garden."

A plant sale was held and a garden walk was enjoyed by those interested and Mrs. Jerry Arbeiter, Mrs. Al Malotki and Mrs. Abe Shannon.

The next meeting will be held Sept. 14 at the home of Mrs. Mary Kristian.

St. Teresa in 3rd Year Of Modular Scheduling

On Aug. 28, 475 girls will begin classes at St. Teresa Academy, East St. Louis, which is entering its third year of modular scheduling.

Under that form of flexible scheduling, both teachers and students are allowed more so-called "unscheduled" time for research, individual projects, and student-teacher conferences.

The primary objective of the method is not only to teach students subject matter, but also to train them in developing a sense of responsibility for their personal and intellectual growth—a responsibility they need to learn to shoulder their obligations in contemporary society.

In addition to the curriculum offerings of 1971-72, St. Teresa Academy has expanded its course offerings in several fields.

The art and crafts departments have added several courses and have now moved from two rooms to the entire third floor of the academy annex. Writing Clinic will furnish English students with opportunities to improve the clarity and correctness of their writing styles as they work on assignments for teachers in other departments.

For capable juniors and seniors, an advanced placement course is being offered in conjunction with St. Louis University. Students completing this course can earn college credits while still attending secondary school.

The academy also announced the members of its Senate: Kenneth Pajares, Alice Gardner, Suzanne Schmitz, Sister Elizabeth Vogt and Sister Mary Simpson.

The Senate is composed of faculty and administration and makes all decisions concerning the school except those dealing with finances and personnel.

Students will begin classes at the academy on Aug. 28. On that day, freshmen only will be required to attend school from 9 a.m. to noon. On Aug. 29, sophomores, juniors, and seniors will have class from 9 to noon. The first full day of class will be held on Aug. 30 with all classes meeting in a full day of school from 8:15 a.m. to 3:10 p.m.

Some dates that appear on the school calendar are as follows:

Aug. 21—Bookselling Day, Seniors—8:10 a.m.; Juniors—10:12 a.m.; Sophomores—1:3 p.m.; Freshmen—3:5 p.m.; hours will also be from 7:30 p.m.

Aug. 24—Faculty workshop; Sept. 4—Labor Day; Oct. 9—Columbus Day; Oct. 15-18—Illinois state principals' meeting; Oct. 17—STA College Night (at Assumption).

Oct. 23—Veterans Day; Nov. 2—Last day of first quarter; Nov. 23-24—Thanksgiving vacation; Dec. 21—Christmas vacation begins at 3 p.m.; Jan. 2—School resumes; Jan. 12—Martin Luther King Day.

Jan. 18—Last day of second quarter; Feb. 12—Lincoln's birthday; March 28—Last day of third quarter; April 20—Easter Monday; May 28—Memorial Day and Senior Recognition Day; May 29—Last day of school and graduation.

Channel 9 Smoking Test to Be Videod

Interested in stopping smoking? KETV-TV, Channel 9, will present a series of five half-hour programs about smoking, "Why You Smoke," beginning Aug. 22, at 9 p.m., and repeated at 7 p.m. on Wednesdays, starting Aug. 23, on viewer-supported Channel 9.

The purpose of the series is to give viewers an understanding of why they smoke and how they may quit if they so decide. The program uses no threats or scare tactics.

Instead, the series is constructed around viewer participation and identification with smokers and their problems. The participation involves a four-part test which a sample of three heavy smokers and the television audience will take while the programs are on the air. The test is self-scoring and answers will be evaluated on the air.

A copy of the test form is available free to anyone requesting it, by writing Channel 9, 6996 Millbrook, St. Louis, Mo. 63130.

The series was produced by National Educational Television in cooperation with the American Cancer Society.

BRITISH ROCK GROUP "Yes" which will end the 1972 Mississippi River Festival concert series at SIUE at 8:30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 21. The group has won the Album of the Year recording

Britain's 'Yes' Rock Group In Festival Concert Monday

The British rock group Yes will be in the spotlight at the final Mississippi River Festival concert of the 1972 season on Monday night, Aug. 21, at 8:30 p.m. on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Although they have been together for several years playing club and concert dates, international recognition did not come until the advent of "The Yes Album." It won the Album of the Year Award in the "Sounds" poll.

In addition to two earlier albums entitled "Yes" and "Time award and its music is noted for "a rich, colorful tapestry of varying moods and textures."

HOUSE RANSACKED

The home of the parents of Janet Rukowski at 2327 Emeri Ave. was ransacked in a burglary after 10 p.m. Sunday, it was reported at 5:30 p.m. Monday. Entry was gained through a basement window. Nothing appeared to be missing.

and a Word," they have the best-selling LP, "Fragile." Jackson Browne, appearing with Yes on Monday night, has been established as an important songwriter since 1968.

Only recently did he cut his first album, entitled "Jackson Browne," which includes his hit single, "Doctor My Eyes."

The concert by the Yes was originally scheduled for July 26 but was postponed due to the addition of Alan White, formerly drummer with Joe Cocker. Tickets purchased for the original July 26 date will be honored at the Aug. 21 concert. Tickets range from $2.50 to $5.50 for reserved seating under the tent; lawn seating is $2.

FIVE PERSONS INJURED

Five persons from Xenia, Ohio, were injured when an auto driven by Arthur J. Conover, 38, of Xenia, collided with another driven by Noel L. Sanders, Collinsville, Monday on Interstate 70 a mile east of Route 157. Girl Scouts Attend Self Discovery Meet Eight girls from River Bluffs Girl Scout Council were among FOCUS girls from Aug. 10 through Aug. 17. FOCUS was a special self-discovery program developed by the Girl Scout Council of Greater St. Louis.

Mrs. Desmond E. Lee Jr., FOCUS chairman and vice-president of the St. Louis Council said "We want people to realize scouting is full of exciting activities. FOCUS represented a new, more extensive phase of scouting. The emphasis of FOCUS was on interpersonal relationships and personal development."

Approximately 200 St. Louis area girls hosted 155 girls from a ten state region. Many of the participants were non-scouts. Upon arrival in St. Louis, the out-of-state girls met with their local host families. The FOCUS participants remained in St. Louis for two days before heading home for Southeast Missouri State College at Cape Girardeau, 120 miles south of St. Louis. The college provided housing, classroom and recreational facilities for FOCUS.

During the five-day group experience at Southeast Missouri State College, FOCUS participants were exposed to new ways of looking at themselves and at others. They attended seminars on interpersonal relationships and human effectiveness conducted by James MacDonald, noted human relations expert for McDonnell-Douglas Corporation. Other volunteer experts led seminars in art, music, yoga, journalism, dance and audio-visual techniques, enabling the girls to develop their own areas of interest.

Those girls who attended FOCUS from River Bluffs Girl Scout Council include: Rita Ahlers, Granite City; Barbara Ayers, Godfrey; Susan Dare, Godfrey; JoAnn Jacober, Highland; Julie Mersinger, Highland; Deana Oram, Granite City; Juanita Oram, Granite City; and Donna Pilz, Bethalto.

State Now in Sound Position to Respond To Drainage, Highway, Recreation Needs

It is easy enough to write off Quad-City after improvement announcements as "election year promises," but some of the projects which went into the hopper during the past weekend clearly go beyond that. Their mid-August timing provides many weeks in which to assess whether they were merely words or whether they are being translated promptly into tangible accomplishments.

The administration of Governor Richard B. Ogilvie is accelerating the acquisition of 3,100-acre, Horseshoe Lake State Park and taking the responsibility that it remains at helpful rather than harmful water levels. It is also linking the new lake park to the existing Cahokia Mounds State Park. The lake park will cost $4 million. Recognizing that the East Side Levee and Sanitary District is hard-pressed financially and has other operating problems as well, the state is undertaking the local-level sponsorship of federal-local stormwater drainage lines leading to Horseshoe Lake.

It is gearing to serve not only the much-discussed Doherty Slough area and eastern Granite City, but also the drainage needs of the Long Lake and Pontoon Beach vicinity.

The Ogilvie administration further is moving to construct outfalls—regulated by pumping stations and stream-flow measuring equipment—between the southern end of Horseshoe Lake and the Cahokia Canal so that stormwater and excess lake water can flow, when appropriate, in unimpeded fashion into the Mississippi River.

The state is taking a direct stand on the side of conservation, recreation and environmental progress by opposing the eastern portion of Missouri's L-15 levee proposal, affecting Alton Lake and the Mississippi River. It is giving the "green light" to multi-million-dollar local-state-federal sanitary sewer installations here.

Illinois Route 203, the "front door" to the Quad-Cities, is to be widened into an attractive four-lane, divided highway connecting Interstate 270 with the Nameco Road-Pontoon Road intersection. The $4 million project, long delayed for a variety of reasons, is to be included in the September construction contract letting. And much-needed traffic and safety improvements also are to be carried out in the Route 111-Washington Street and Humbert Street portion of the Alton area.

The state's wish to see this area progress and prosper is not surprising. Close to 100% of those elected to high offices sincerely would like to wave a "magic wand" and transform the geographic territory they serve into communities enjoying abundance and happiness and up-to-date facilities.

What is noteworthy is that there is not only the desire but the ability. When queried on this point, Governor Ogilvie answered, "We have been trying to put the state government into the kind of sound position from which it can respond to the public's needs."

Judging by recent events, the state's administrative and fiscal procedures have been such that it has come a considerable way toward the ideal of an efficient entity able to act responsibly on behalf of the citizenry.

American President Viewed by Many as the Greatest Suffered from Severe Depression

Continuing discussion of the elimination of Senator Eagleton as a Vice-Presidential nominee due to his past depression and emotional ailment treatment has turned a brighter spotlight on President Abraham Lincoln, regarded by most historians as the greatest U.S. chief executive throughout the past two centuries.

Dr. Karl A. Menninger, in "The Human Mind," has related that:

"Fortunately for the world, Abraham Lincoln, characteristically a moody personality type, was preserved from a wretched failure by the intelligence and decisiveness of his friends."

This is an aspect of the life of Lincoln which many persons do not know, although it is recorded by most of his biographers.

After the death of Ann Rutledge, he was incapacitated for months by melancholy. "Again in 1841 he was plunged into so deep a depression that he was taken by his friends into guarded seclusion at the advice of physicians, and all activities and dangerous instruments were removed from his reach."

"He is quoted as saying he was the most miserable man living and that 'if what I feel were equally distributed to the whole human family, there would not be one cheerful face on earth.'"

"He himself called his affliction hypochondria, but it was assuredly more than that. It was typical melancholia."

The possible consequences to this nation and to the world of this episode in Lincoln's life, had it been otherwise than so judiciously handled, are terrible to consider.

Yet the affliction so engulfed Lincoln is no stranger to mankind.

"Creeping upon its victims insidiously, or seizing them like a storm, the grey clouds of melancholy settle down upon many thousands each year."

Lincoln was destined to face perhaps the greatest pressures and severest tests of mental toughness encountered by any President. That he was able to successfully deal with such challenges is evidenced by his historical rank as one of the true giants of civilized mankind.

One is left in wonder whether there was greater sophistication, understanding and compassion regarding emotional problems in the 19th Century than in the 20th Century.

The nation which would have been poorer without Lincoln's service in high office and, fortunately, did not reject him.

James Stuart Chapter Has Produced Another Sweetheart to Reign Over Illinois DeMolays

Congratulations are in order for Miss Kathy Parmley of Granite City, 1972 Illinois State DeMolay Sweetheart, and for the James Stuart Chapter, which sponsored her.

Her reign will extend from the coronation ball five nights ago at Carbondale to the 45th annual DeMolay convalesce Aug. 16-19, 1973, at Champaign.

The local chapter obviously has a sharp eye for congeniality and beauty, having sponsored state winners and close contenders consistently over the years.

Car trouble is when the engine won't start and the payments won't stop.

Say? written in 1934: "I Get Along Without You Very Well," by lyrics by Hoagy Carmichael; and "Remembering You," a tune written for his TV show's closing by Roger Kellaway, with lyrics by O'Connor.

The act at Hotel Riviera opened with "Bunker" strutting onstage wearing the Bunker hat and smoking a Bunker cigar, but wearing a non-Bunker tuxedo.

He explained that the latter was in deference to "high-class Las Vegas audiences," which might "applaud the act."

Remember, the Archie character, he found acceptable ways to criticize the government, much in the fashion originated by Will Rogers:

"If anything happens to Kissinger, Nixon becomes president."

"Why does a Presidential candidate spend $5 million to get a $200,000-a-year job—unless he knows something we don't?"

"If Nixon is going to give something to China, why don't we turn something on 'em we don't need—like Lockheed, a replica of the old, but not necessarily wilder, west."

Voice of Labor Change Economic Policies That Harm Low, Middle Income Families

By GEORGE MEANY, President, AFL-CIO

The chaotic state of the national economy poses serious problems for today and for the future.

The Administration taking office in January must initiate decisive action to counter the cumulative impact of economic policies which threaten the intrinsic fibre of the nation, warp the economy and divide the people.

The incumbent Administration has relegated workers, middle income citizens and consumers to second-class economic status.

These policies have provided dividends to the corporate community, banks and wealthy individuals and families.

The full impact of the unemployment problem is almost lost in the maze of official statistics.

The harsh fact is that, during 1971, 15 million workers experienced unemployment. About 25 million were jobless 15 weeks or longer.

All this is an important factor in crime and delinquency.

Voice of Business Profits Provide Tax Revenue and Investment Funds to Create Jobs

By ARCH N. BOOTH Executive Vice-President, U.S. Chamber of Commerce

The scene is a stock ingredient of grade "B" Westerns: The camera takes us through the swinging doors of the saloon.

Within, a tense group of hard-boiled men are gathered around a green-felt-covered table, playing poker. One of them is heavily sweating.

After announcing that 5.5% would be the maximum permissible rate for the new bonds with 7% allowed in special "catch-up" cases — the Board granted the following increases:

Excess of its own rules: Soft coal miners, 15%; aerospace workers, 8.5%; United Transportation Union, 14.9%; West Coast dock workers, 14.9%.

The Board also acquiesced in construction industry wage settlements averaging about 11% a year.

But even that wasn't enough for organized labor. The dock workers wanted 20.0%, not a 14.9% raise like 14.9%.

So, kick over the table, double the lights, and start shooting. Labor fired two wild shots.

The first was the charge that wage controls are "unfair" if profits aren't controlled. The second was the charge that profits are "sloaring."

Profits were better in 1971 than in 1970, but then, they could hardly have been worse.

It's safe to predict that the situation will get more confusing, rather than less. And, unfortunately, we will be able to spot the "good guy" by his white hat.

Ralph T. Smith Responsible for Much Legislation

The sudden death of former U.S. Senator Ralph Tyler Smith, Aug. 13 was noted with sadness in the Quad-Cities. Following are excerpts from his biography:

On Dec. 1, 1906, Ralph T. Smith announced his unsuccessful candidacy of November 1970 to retain his seat in the U.S. Senate. He was appointed by Illinois Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie to fill the vacancy left by the death of the late Senator Everett M. Dirksen in September 1969.

Sen. Smith was first elected as a state representative on the Republican ticket in 1954 and was re-elected continuously until advancing to the U.S. Senate. He became majority whip in the Illinois House of Representatives in 1963, and was elected House Speaker in 1967 and again in 1969.

During 15 years in the Illinois House, Sen. Smith sponsored numerous bills in a variety of areas.

Among his most significant proposals were bills to curtail air and water pollution; to provide safer roads for the state's 11 million citizens; and to stop rioting.

As a long-time member of the Motor Vehicle Law Commission, he worked for better highway and traffic safety legislation, and for better regulation and operation of trucking in Illinois.

He served on numerous House committees, including the Committee for Appropriations, and was closely involved with executive, judiciary, revenue and bank affairs.

In the 1969 session, he sponsored much of Governor Ogilvie's legislation.

In acceptance speech after being appointed to the U.S. Senate, Smith voiced support for President Nixon's "law and order" concept, a concept involving the sharing of federal tax revenues with state and local governments.

He spoke out against pollution and the rising rate of inflation, and emphasized the need for improving living conditions — particularly in congested cities.

Sen. Smith was an active Republican campaigner. He served as Downstate campaign manager for Charles F. Carpenter during his bid for governor in 1964.

He was parliamentarian of the Republican Caucus in Springfield in 1966, and Downstate manager of Richard Ogilvie's successful campaign for governor in 1968.

He was born Oct. 6, 1915, in Granite City.

He attended local schools and graduated from Granite City Community High School in 1933. After four years at Illinois College in Jacksonville, he received a bachelor of arts degree.

In 1940, he received a doctor of jurisprudence degree from Washington University Law School in St. Louis and gained admittance to the bar in Illinois and Missouri.

In 1949, Sen. Smith set up a private law practice in the office of Judge Wesley Lueders in Granite City.

The following year, he became assistant to the general attorney of the Chicago Illinois Midland Railway Co. He served in that post until he was called to active duty in July 1942 with his U.S. Naval Reserve unit.

After basic training he served as an officer aboard a convoy escort vessel.

In 1945, he was appointed executive officer of his ship and later took command of a ship at Guam. His orders directed him to Okinawa and finally to the Japanese home islands.

He was released to inactive duty in January 1946 as a lieutenant (senior grade).

After the war, Sen. Smith returned to the C and IM railroad as assistant general attorney. In May 1946, he moved with his wife, Mary, to Alton to engage in general law practice.

His many civic activities brought him in contact with other community leaders and, before long, he was elected to run for public office.

In 1954, he ran for the office of state representative, won the election, and began a long career of defeating political campaigns.

He married the former Mary Elizabeth Anderson of Granite City in October 1942. They had three children: Sharon Lynne, who served as a nurse at the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children in St. Louis. She is married to Seigle Hayes and they reside in Goshen, Ind., with their daughter, Sen. Smith's sister, Mrs. Elaine Schmidt of Granite City.

Bunker Jokes Like a Modern Will Rogers in Nation's Still-Wild West

Second of Two Columns

Columnists abound in Las Vegas, including veteran Forest Duke, who calls it TBCOAT: The Best City of Them All.

Duke welcomed Liberace this summer by recalling that the pianist appeared in Las Vegas 25 years ago at the Last Frontier, where it was one of only two hotels in town.

Another columnist is none other than editor-in-chief Jimmie "The Greck" Snyder, who has been quoted nationally since regarding the upcoming Presidential election (Nixon now a 6-1 choice over McGovern).

In his column, Snyder accurately rated Billie Jean King as the odds-on favorite to win the Wimbledon tennis tournament, with Evonne Goolagong second and Christine Evert third. They finished in that order.

He writes extensively about boxing, one of the leading sports for betting in Las Vegas.

While we were there, Muhammad Ali, former world heavyweight champion, and Bob Foster, world light heavyweight titlist, were training daily at Caesars Palace, with the public admitted (for $1).

Former heavyweight champ Joe Louis, older but still relatively trim, is on the staff of the hotel.

Columnist Duke likes to relate malapropisms by Bessie Kovell, whose son, Hank Kovell, is hotel executive in Las Vegas. Samples:

"I'm so depressed today; if I could swim, I'd go jump off a bridge."

"I can't go to the mountains; the attitude doesn't agree with me."

"Remember, newlyweds, you have to live together for the rest of your life, if you live that long."

"I took a bromo because I have an upset stomach."

Carroll O'Connor, who plays Archie Bunker on the highly-rated television show, "All in the Family," presented an act written with the aid of comic Pat McCormick.

O'Connor's acting and singing ability were used well in such numbers as the Vernon Duke's "What Is There to

Credit Union Donates To John Allen Young

Mrs. Ruby Parker, secretary-treasurer of the Southern Illinois Chapter of Credit Unions, has deposited $50 to the John Allen Young fund at the First Granite City National Bank.

The contributions were collected at a family picnic of the Credit Union held this month. Chairman of the picnic was Robert Vaughn; Joseph Lucido is president of the chapter.

David Spaulding to New Air Force Station

Airman First Class David L. Spaulding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon J. Spaulding, 2141-A Delmar Ave., has graduated at Keesler AFB, Miss., from the U. S. Air Force radar repairman course conducted by the Air Training Command.

The airman, who was trained to operate and repair aircraft control and a warning radar equipment, is being assigned to Annapolis Air Force Station, Wis., for duty with a unit of the Aerospace Defense Command which protects the U. S. against hostile aircraft and missiles.

Rezoning Approved for K-Mart Building Here

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

The Granite City Plan Commission has approved plans for a K-Mart Store proposed for construction near the Namoki Village Shopping Center. The action followed a public hearing on the development.

In approving the plans, the commission voted to rezone a tract of about six acres of land adjacent to the shopping center from R-2 residential to C-2 commercial.

Approval was granted with the stipulation that plans for adequate fire hydrants are made and approved by the Granite City fire chief. Plan Commission members voted unanimously in favor of the rezoning.

Henry Lueders, a commission member, left before discussion on the project, saying he owned land near the proposed building and did not feel he should participate in action by the planning body.

Attorney Leo Konzen spoke on behalf of E. N. Maisel & Associates of Oak Park, Mich., developers, and Wilson Park Estates, Inc., owners of the land, petitioners for the change in zoning.

Lueders explained the planning for the K-Mart store near the shopping center "is consistent with the overall growth of this community."

Parking Agreement

He said the Maisel firm plans to enter into a parking agreement with Namoki Village, Biedermann and Tri-Mor Bowl to make the existing buildings and the K-Mart "one shopping complex."

Konzen also explained that a stormwater impounding system (a small lake) is proposed for runoff water until it can be released into the sewer system. He said an engineering firm for the developers has approved the plans.

Planning commission members questioned the drainage since it has not been studied by the city's engineering consultants, but Henry Gabriel, commission member, reminded them that the store would have to meet all requirements of the city before it will be built, including approval of the drainage plans.

Konzen also explained that the right-of-way would remain along the east side of the Norfolk & Western Railroad tracks for a possible future road from Ponton Road into downtown Granite City.

No Opposition

No speakers appeared against the proposal and Boyd Presley, chairman, said that all persons involved in the project and those living in the area surrounding the site were notified of the public hearing.

Gabriel said the subcommittee to study the proposal urged it be approved. The vote was 6-0 in favor of recommending to the city council that the development be allowed.

In other business the commission denied a request by Elmer Barnhardt and Earl and Bernadine Smith for annexation of 60 acres of land north of the city limits on Maryville Road.

Barnhardt appeared to request that five lots adjacent to Maryville Schools, lots one through six in Northland Estates 2, be added to the city and be zoned commercial.

He said he planned to develop a professional office building on one of the lots. The request was brought before the commission at its previous meeting. They requested a legal opinion on the proposal.

Petition Denied

The attorney's opinion held that the property could be annexed, but four residents of the area appeared against the proposal for commercial zoning. The commission members unanimously denied the petition.

Another petition for the construction of a mobile home park on 13.137 acres across Village Lane from the Village Lane Apartments was denied on a 6-0 vote.

John Deffort and John Sento, developers, appeared to explain the plans for a "closed park development" in which they would own the 98 mobile homes in the park plus the clubhouse, swimming pool, tennis courts, playground and laundry facility.

Deffort said he had been attempting for five years to arrange proper financing for more apartments on the land but had found it impossible. He said the mobile home park would provide "low cost-high quality housing in a self-contained community."

Despite the planning commission's denial, the project still may be presented to the Granite City Council for consideration.

IRS Truck Use Tax To Be Filed by Aug. 31

Owners of large trucks, tractors or buses may be required to file a Federal Highway Use Tax Return, Form 2290, by August 31, Leon C. Green, District Director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, announced today.

The tax year begins July 1 and runs through the following June 30. Subsequent returns may be required for vehicles used for the first time on public highways after July 1.

IRS Publication 346, "Federal Use Tax on Trucks, Tractor, and Buses," provides detailed information on this subject and may be obtained free from IRS district offices.

Public Hearing Set

On Landfill Case

The Illinois Pollution Control Board will conduct a public hearing at 10 a.m. Monday in the third floor courtroom of City Hall in Granite City on the case of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency charging Ivy Hearnes with a landfill violation.

The EPA charges that Ivy Hearnes is one owner of a landfill located on Route 203 south of Madison. A violation of landfill regulations is charged.

3 Complete Apprentice Training at GC Steel

Three Granite Cityans have been awarded "Certificates of Completion of Apprenticeship" at Granite City Steel Company for fulfilling requirements of the apprenticeship program. They are Peter M. Galinski, 2560 Waterman Ave.; John P. Dancó, 2204 Bern Ave.; and Gerald C. Gann, 408 Melrose Ave.

Galinski was promoted to journeyman electrician at the Steelworks, Danco to journeyman electrician at the Blast Furnace department, and Gann to journeyman ironworker at the Blast Furnace.

They have completed 8,000 hours of on-the-job training, plus 376 hours of related classroom instruction on their own time. They were required as apprentices to attend school for a minimum of 144 hours a year for four years.

Related instruction for Galinski consisted of courses in direct current electricity, alternating current electricity, electronic control systems, air conditioning, transistors and vacuum tubes, etc.

For Danco, the related courses were DC electricity, AC electricity, electric control systems, electrical trouble shooting and electronics.

Gann's specialized courses included mathematics, layout, blueprint reading, industrial mechanics and mechanical rigging.

All GC Steel apprentice programs are registered with and approved by the U. S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training. Completion certificates are issued by that department.

In congratulating the new journeymen on their achievement, R. R. Parmley, general superintendent — maintenance, noted that successful completion of the training program demands that the apprentice be willing to learn, that he apply himself on his job, and that he sometimes make sacrifices in order to attend school for the required number of hours.

Galinski, 32, has been with Granite City Steel since August 1961 and Gann, 31, has been a GCS employee since August 1961.

Major David Howard In Combat Exercise

U. S. Air Force Major David E. Howard was among outstanding Strategic Air Command (SAC) combat crewmembers who recently participated in the Second Air Force Top Crew recognition and career enrichment program at Barksdale AFB, La.

Major Howard is a KC-135 navigator with the 908th Aerial Refueling Squadron at Kincheloe AFB, Mich. He met with headquarters staff members and his peers in an informal seminar atmosphere providing opportunity for free exchange of ideas and suggestions.

Major Howard was commissioned in 1958 through the aviation cadet program.

He is a 1952 graduate of Madison High School. The major's wife, Margaret, is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Moerliem of 1316 Edwardsville Road, Granite City.

Conservation District Plans All-Day Tour

The Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District will sponsor its annual all-day bus tour Thursday, Aug. 24. The bus will leave the USDA building (Old Alton Road, south of the junction of 159 and the northwest edge of Edwardsville) at 9:30 a.m.

There is no charge for the tour, but reservations must be made before Aug. 21. Lunch will be at Townsend's Restaurant, Route 4 and 40. Reservations may be made at the SCS office, 686-4710.

The tour will include stops at a housing development area, a newly-developed park, the original home of the founders of Pet. Inc., as well as newly constructed conservation practices in the south and east part of the county.

The tour has been arranged through the combined efforts of the Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District, USDA Soil Conservation Service, Extension Service, and the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Phillip Murray First With Sculpture Entry

Phillip Murray, 328 McKinley, Alton, formerly of Granite City, received first place honors over-all-show at St. Genevieve Jour de Fete Festival during the weekend in St. Genevieve, Mo.

Murray's winning exhibition of original cast bronze sculpture most recently was displayed locally at Lewis and Clark Community College in a three-man show. He also won third place honors over-all-show at the Pekin, Ill. Art Festival Exposure I, in July.

Murray is a graduate student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and is married to the former Elaine Dineff. They have a daughter, Jennifer.

Enrollment Climbing At McKendree College

While most private colleges and a few state institutions are experiencing declining enrollments, the enrollment at McKendree College at Lebanon is on the upswing, according to Raymond F. Devery, vice-president.

Devery, who is in charge of admissions, said there is no doubt that McKendree College's enrollment will top 600 this fall, 20 more than last fall. "It's a small but meaningful increase—but in the fact of the national trend it is an indication that young people like what is happening at McKendree," Devery said.

Dental School Obtains $10,984 in Student Aid

The U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has awarded $10,984 to the Southern Illinois University School of Dental Medicine for student loans and scholarships. Of the total, $7,708 is allocated for loans, with the remaining $3,276 for scholarships. The money will be distributed on the basis of need by the SUIU Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance.

The dental school, on the university's Alton campus, will open with its first class of 24 students in September.

Teen Singing Star David Cassidy Here on Saturday

Teenage singing star David Cassidy will entertain at the Mississippi River Festival at 8:30 p.m. Saturday on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Appearing with him will be Kim Carnes and Dave Ellingson.

Co-star of the weekly network television show, "The Partridge Family," Cassidy also is featured in frequent concert tours. His voice is considered expressive and powerful.

His current single, "How Can I Be Sure," is at the top of the charts, joining the million sellers that he's recorded with the Partridge Family. "I Think I Love You" (over five million copies) and "Doesn't Somebody Want to Be Wanted?"

The two Partridge Family albums, "Up to Date" and "The Partridge Family Album," have sold over one and two million albums, respectively.

The emergence of David Cassidy as a star in the fall of 1970 has been compared to the explosion of Frank Sinatra in the 40s, Elvis Presley in the '50s and the Beatles in the 1960s.

Cassidy was discovered by the younger generation and a few appearances playing roles on "Marcus Welby," "Ironside," "Bonanza," and others during the 1968-70 season.

Prior to the September 1970 debut of "The Partridge Family," he made a two-week promotional tour to 10 cities in the U. S.

Teenagers scrambled to meet him early in the mornings—just to get a glimpse of him. Cassidy records for Bell Records, with "I Think I Love You" selling over five million copies and "Doesn't Somebody Want to Be Wanted" topping the one and one-half million mark only four weeks after being released.

A natural musician, he plays the drums, and is a composer and lyricist of songs which will be heard on forthcoming singles and albums.

Student Voting Habits To Be Studied in Fall

Two academic departments at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will join forces this fall to study the voting habits and political images of university students. The departments involved are government and mass communications.

Guiding the project will be Prof. Kamel Winter of mass communications and Prof. Arthur Stankiewicz, chairman of the government and public affairs department. They will be assisted by instructor Carl Tubbesing of the government and public affairs department and Carol Kolfeld, Altamira, a graduate student in government.

Prof. John R. Rider, chairman of the mass communications department and director of Broadcasting Services at SUIU, is the coordinator.

Classes directly involved will be TVR 389, special problems in mass communications; 445A, American political behavior; and 565, individual research in government. Other classes in government and mass communications will also participate, Rider said.

Students interested in joining the project should contact Rider at 692-2228.

10 Catholic Schools Use KETC-TV Programs

A total of 10 Catholic schools in Illinois have signed 1972-73 participation agreements with KETC-TV, Channel 9, to use instructional television. KETC-TV is the public television station in St. Louis and is supported entirely through contributions from schools, families and individuals.

Schools pay $1.25 per pupil per year to use daytime instructional television, written guide materials, in-service training for teachers and additional services. This is contrasted with a cost of $1.50 to $3 per pupil in many other areas of the country.

In the Illinois area the participating schools are: Blessed Sacrament, Belleville; Holy Childhood, Mascoutah; Holy Ghost, Jerseyville; Immaculate Conception, East St. Louis; St. Adalbert, East St. Louis; St. Boniface, Edwardsville; St. James, Millstadt; St. John the Baptist, Smithton; St. Mary's, Edwardsville; and St. Peter School, Quincy.

Anyone desiring information on Channel 9's instructional television programming should contact B. G. Murray, director of school services, Channel 9, 6866 Millbrook, St. Louis, Mo. 63130.

Journalism Convention At SUIU Aug. 20-23

Three members of the mass communications faculty at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will participate in the national convention of the Association for Education in Journalism which will meet in Carbondale Aug. 20-23, with SUIU as host university.

Prof. John Rider, chairman of the communications faculty and director of Broadcasting Service at SUIU, will chair a panel Aug. 22 on government pressures on the media. Members of his panel will include George Reedy, press secretary to former President Lyndon B. Johnson; Ted Koop, recently retired as vice president of CBS; and Roy Fisher, dean of the School of Journalism at the University of Missouri at Columbia.

Kamel Winter, associate professor of mass communications, will serve on a panel Aug. 22 entitled The Functional Press—A Challenge for Journalism Research in Communist Systems. Winter was director of news for Czechoslovak television until the Russian occupation and is a former Czech columnist.

Edmund Hasse, assistant professor in the mass communications department, will participate Aug. 21 in a panel discussion on teaching magazine journalism theory and practice. A former editor of All-Florida Magazine, Hasse visited 32 magazine companies in New York and Chicago during his sabbatical leave a year ago.

Charlie Pride Scores Big in Las Vegas Debut

By JUDY HUGG
Copy News ServiceGranite City PRESS-RECORD

Las Vegas—A slightly nervous, yet very much in command, Charlie Pride turned another page in country western history recently when he opened at the Las Vegas International Hilton Hotel.

Since it was Pride's first appearance in this renowned supper-club realm, his nervousness was understandable. Yet the moment he began to sing, every knife, fork and spoon in the jammed showroom became suspended in mid-air.

Adapting quickly to his audience, Charlie laid down a sophisticated country western set that is perhaps one of his finest to date. He thrilled the audience with his singing and between song chatter.

"I learned how to handle an audience long ago, from all those years I spent knocking around Montana," he said in a backstage interview. "There was one time in Detroit when the audience clapped like mad, when my name was announced."

But when I walked on stage the applause just stopped dead. I told them, 'Friends, I know it's a little unique for someone with my permanent tan to be singing country music. But I just hope you like what I'm going to sing.'

First Moment
"Well, it worked and right then and there I knew it was only a matter of how I handle the first moment or two when a new audience gets a look at me as to how well I'll do."

The handsome Pride, who tips the scale at 200 pounds, all of over six feet tall, did well in Las Vegas by using a rather large orchestra for backing. He held his performance together with a well-balanced blending of country, western, pop and middle of the road songs, all of which have been on at least one of his 17 albums for RCA Records.

When asked why he plugged his albums all through his performance, Charlie said with a big grin:

"I always do that, just to let people know that I do have albums out and which ones they are. Like I'll say 'This is from my 7th and 17th albums' and that way if you really like the song maybe you'll buy the album."

Top Record Seller
It makes sense, because he has become one of the top—if not the best—record sellers in country music today.

Just to mention a few cuts in his repertoire, there were "All His Children," which won him an Academy Award nomination; "Kiss An Angel," his very first gold record; "All I Have For You," and many more too numerous to mention.

One of the reasons Pride has become the first black man to ever achieve such super success in the field of country music is his voice. It carries a rich, powerful resonant baritone sound, with very little of the traditional "twang" associated with country music. This enables him to cover both country and contemporary music with equal ease.

Charlie claims he's not sure how he actually got into country western music.

"I grew up singing and listening to it on the radio, but I wouldn't have if any other way. To me, it's the kind of music that expresses my feelings about life exactly the way I feel about it."

Youth in Mississippi
Charlie spent his youth in the Mississippi cottonfields working beside his parents and his 10 brothers and sisters. He left his home town of Sledge at 17 to play professional ball. Then came a two year hitch with Uncle Sam and his marriage to Rozene. (He now has three children).

It wasn't until late in 1963, that Pride got his big break into the entertainment world. Red Sovine stumbled onto his act and suggested he give up ball for a singing career. He did, and the results have been fantastic.

Now some 17 albums later and heaped with honors too numerous to mention, Charlie Pride has set a precedent in country western music that he hopes many will follow.

It's good to see that other black country artists are starting to be heard," he said. "There's no reason why Linda Martell or Stoney Edwards shouldn't make it big, cause they are good. It will happen."

Coast Guard Academy
Applications Accepted

The United States Coast Guard Academy has announced that it is now accepting and processing applications for appointments as Cadet, U. S. Coast Guard, Class of 1977.

Appointments to the academy are tendered solely on the basis of an annual nationwide competition with no congressional appointments or geographical quotas. Applications for appointment must be submitted to the Director of Admissions, U. S. Coast Guard Academy, prior to Dec. 15 and candidates must arrange to participate in the pre-scribed College Entrance Examination Board tests prior to or including the Dec. 2 administration.

The competition for appointment as cadet is based on the candidate's high school rank, his performance on the CEEB (1) Scholastic Aptitude Test, (2) English Composition Achievement Test, and (3) either Level I or Level II Mathematics Achievement Test, and his leadership potential as demonstrated by his participation in high school extracurricular activities, community affairs or part-time employment.

Most successful candidates rank in the top quarter of their high school class and demonstrate proficiency in both the mathematical and applied science fields.

To qualify for the competition, an applicant must be unmarried and must have reached his 17th birthday by July 1, 1973. The minimum educational requirement is a high school diploma; however, high school seniors assured of graduation by June 30, 1973, are eligible to compete provided they have at least 15 credits by that time. Applicants must have completed three units in English and three in mathematics, including algebra and plane or coordinate geometry or their equivalents, and must fulfill the basic physical and moral requirements.

Uncle Sam Tightens
Student Loan RulesBy EDWARD NEILAN
Copy News Service

Washington — College students who want to "study now, pay later" are now subject to intensive examinations of their family incomes.

Uncle Sam is trying to make sure that students applying for an interest-free, U.S.-backed loan to finance their education do indeed come from needy backgrounds.

The means test, incorporated by Congress in the omnibus education bill signed into law by President Nixon on June 23, is likely to result in a substantial reduction in the number of students qualifying for such government subsidies, according to officials of the U. S. Office of Education.

Students from middle-income families attending lower-tuition public colleges, universities and two-year institutions will be hardest hit.

In a pool, about 96% of students applying for the federally subsidized loans received them, after showing only that their adjusted family income was less than $15,000.

Simple Formula
This family financial disclosure amounted to a simple formula computation of gross income, minus the 10 per cent standard income-tax deduction and allowable exemptions.

Under the new regulations, families will have to complete a detailed confidential financial statement with loan officers at the institutions their children attend.

The statement requires disclosure of all family income, debts and liabilities, and assets such as automobiles, mortgage equity, life insurance, stock income, savings and other investments. Businessmen will have to fill out a separate form detailing their business income.

College loan officers, who will be faced with an unprecedented amount of paper work which could delay the approval of students' loans, will have the power to decide whether a student has demonstrated the financial need required for an interest-free government loan. The college official will certify the student for a subsidized loan from a bank which then actually makes the government-guaranteed loan.

Junior College Offers
Course on Insurance

Lewis and Clark Community

College will offer this fall a new course on individual life and health insurance. The course, which may lead to an associate in applied science degree with CLU designation, or to the certificate program, will meet on Tuesday from 3 to 5:30 p.m. beginning Aug. 29.

The new course is designed to provide the CLU candidate with knowledge of the role of life and health insurance in meeting economic security needs, types of individual and special life and annuity contracts, individual health contracts including disability and medical insurance, and the arithmetic of life insurance as related to premiums, reserves, non-forfeiture values, surplus and dividends.

Instructor for the course will be Joseph Russo of Godfrey, a graduate of Harvard, who has had extensive experience in the insurance field and has previously taught CLU courses.

Persons interested in enrolling may do so by mail, or on the Lewis and Clark campus during the regular registration period Aug. 24 and 25. Registration will be held in the Hathaway Hall Gymnasium from 8:30-4:30 Aug. 23 and 24 and from 8:30-noon on Aug. 25. Special evening registration will be held Aug. 23 and 24 from 6:30-8 p.m.

Your peanuts won't stay peanuts long.

If you're like most people who save, you're saving for something you really want. And we want to help you get it. That's why we pay the highest interest allowed by law on all our savings plans.

Of course, a lot of savings and loan associations do that. But we take it one step further. We compound your interest every single day. So if you need to withdraw some money from a passbook account for a while, all you'll miss is the daily interest for the days the money is out—not for the whole quarter.

In other words, every dollar you deposit earns as much as it can as fast as it can. At that rate, you'll have the something you're saving for in no time.

"MADCAP MORNINGS". A summer program of activities and field trips is in progress for children of residents of Tower Lake at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The program is called "Madcap Mornings." It is co-sponsored by the SIUE Housing Office and the Tower Lake Area Council. Field trips have included Grant's Farm in St. Louis and the St. Louis Zoo. At far left Michelle Richard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Duncan work on water color. In the next picture, co-director Kathy Hager (center), an SIUE graduate in education, leads

Sternberg On Dean's List at North Arizona

Gene H. Sternberg Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Sternberg, 2622 Cleveland Blvd., has been placed on the dean's list at Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff. His grades in the spring semester were above 3.499 with "A" carrying four points.

Sternberg, his wife Kathy and son Chris now make their home in Flagstaff, where Gene is completing his undergraduate work in forestry. His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Coe. Her father is the former Cahokia Mound scout executive.

During the summer, Sternberg has been employed by the U. S. Forestry Service as a forest patrol technician fighting fires and doing fire patrol work in the Arizona forests. He is completing the summer experience as a guide on the Colorado River float trips.

Explorer Post 6 Colorado Bound

Chambers Lake in the Roosevelt National Forest of northern Colorado is the destination of Explorer Post 6, sponsored by Concordia Lutheran Church.

The local Explorers leave Saturday morning from the home of their advisor, Don Beck, 3329 Palm St., and will set up base camp at Chambers Lake.

They will take a two-day pack trip into the Rawah wilderness area, after which they will tour the general area.

Making the trip in addition to Beck will be Bruce Evans, Jim Anderson, Tom Beck, Brad Cowan, Jim Throne, Don Durbin, Tommy Earls and Terry Barnes.

Post 6 has made similar trips to various parts of the United States for the past 22 years.

Hong Kong Student to Open Art Show Aug. 21

Robert Chi, a graduate art student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, concentrates on the environment in his exhibition which opens Aug. 21 and runs through Sept. 8. The Hong Kong native uses plastics, water and air in depicting his concept of a specific environment. From the balcony in the lobby of the Communications Building he will have 40 small plastic bags of water suspended. In the Lovjoy Library lightwell he will have a large inflated piece and four trays of water left on the floor to evaporate. Other conceptual works of Chi can be seen at the south entrance of the Science Building and the south entrance of the Communications Building.

The show is being given in partial fulfillment of the master of fine arts degree.

SIUE Police Checking On Vehicle Burglaries

Security police from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and other area law enforcement agencies are still searching for numerous items stolen Aug. 11 from vehicles parked on university lots.

Security police said most of the burglaries occurred during a concert at the Mississippi River Festival on the SIUE campus.

The largest loss was reported by Charlie Pilz of St. Louis. He said a display of about 100 high school and college class rings valued at nearly $4,000 was taken from his car.

Security police also received reports from persons who said stereo tape decks and other items were taken from their automobiles. Some cars were broken into but no property was stolen, security police said. One stolen car was reported to SIUE authorities. Hayward Hill of Scott Air Force Base said his 1964 auto was taken from a Mississippi River Festival parking area Friday night.

Three GC Students Graduate at Eastern

Three Granite City students have graduated in summer commencement exercises at Eastern Illinois University. They are Mark Edward Hodebecke and Patricia A. Patrick who received bachelor of science degrees in education and Mary Estelle Harris Fisher, bachelor of science in business.

50,000 Drivers Fail

Last year alone, over 50,000 Illinois licensed drivers failed the state written examination. This year the number of drivers that will fail could jump to a hundred thousand or more. Experts say — "One reason is, that rules and regulations change, and even some good safe drivers just don't keep up with the new laws." If your license expires this year, you may be among the hundreds of thousands that will be re-examined in 1972. So if you're nervous about taking the state written exam, here's good news. You can now purchase your own "self-scoring" test papers, complete with questions, answers and road signs you should know for that important examination day. This method has helped thousands and pass the state exam. Introductory price just $6 plus 75 cents handling. (Check or money order only.) Mail to AA-AA School of Safe Driving, 6304 N. A VW EXCLUSIVE

ONE YEAR SERVICE INCLUDED ALL YOU BUY IS THE GAS...

With any new Volkswagen purchased after July 17th Collinsville Volkswagen Inc. will give you a service contract on any new Volkswagen you buy that covers all normal service and maintenance expenses. All of which means just what it sounds like, (we pay for everything it costs you to run your new Volkswagen) except the gas for one year or 12,000 miles, whichever on a pro-rata basis. This agreement does not cover towing, accident damage to the vehicle, or damage to the vehicle caused by miss-use or by its modification. Naturally, this give-away is for a limited time only . . . so hurry!

In Memoriam
In loving memory of CHARLES L. WOOD who lost his life in a highway accident August 16, 1971. Just when your days seemed brighter, God called you home to rest. And left only a memory of you. What we would give to hear your voice. And your lovely smile to see. To laugh and talk of things gone by. And wish for things to be. When the agony of missing you, is more than our hearts can bear. We whisper softly, "Dear Jesus, Take care of our loved one until we get there." Wife NORA, ERNIE, BETH and COTTON 32-8-17

In loving memory of MATILDA T. RAYBURN, August 18, 1971. One year has passed since that sad day, When one we loved was called away. God took her home, it was His will. Within our hearts she liveth still. Sadly missed by DAUGHTER, SON, SON-IN-LAW and GRANDCHILDREN 32-8-17
